Serious Business

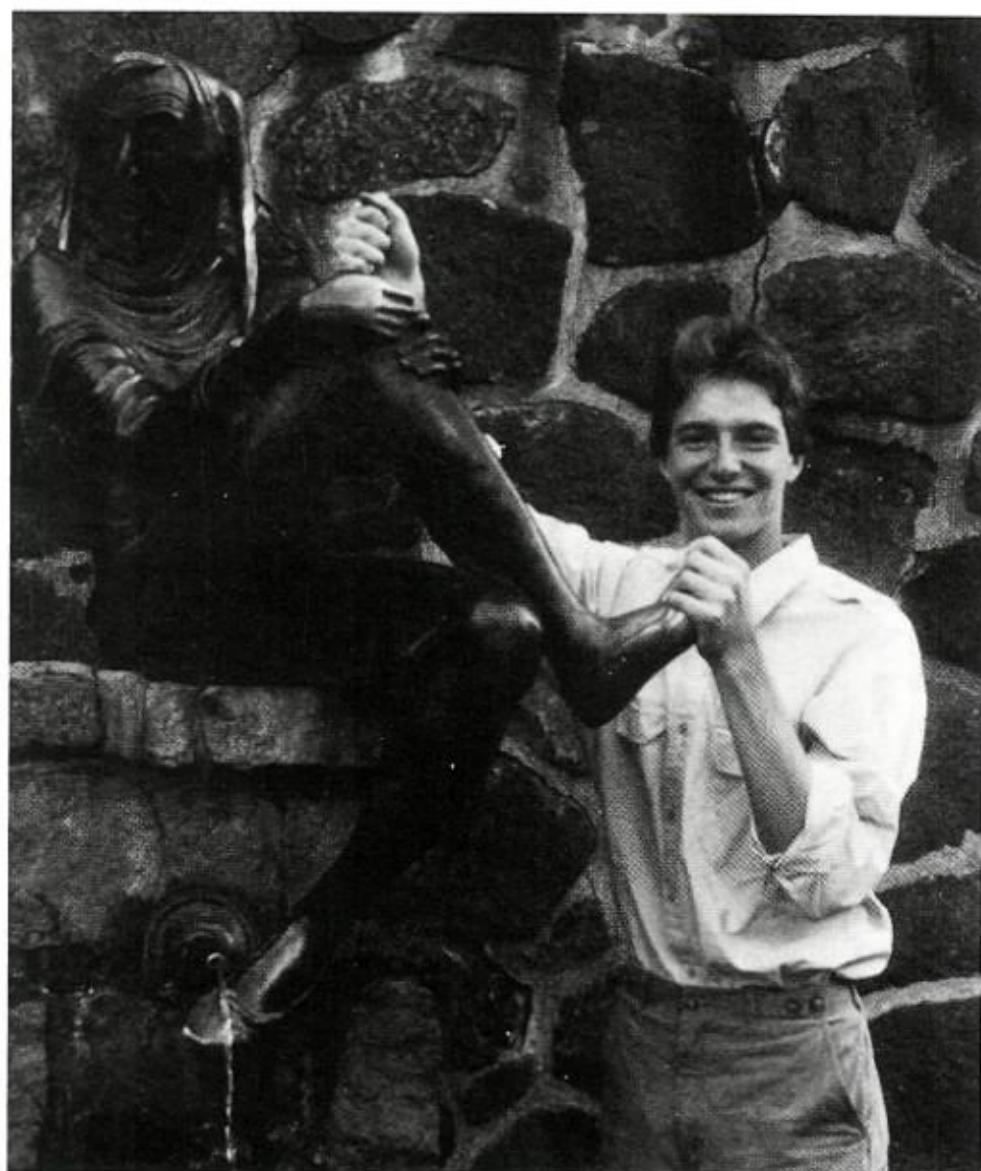

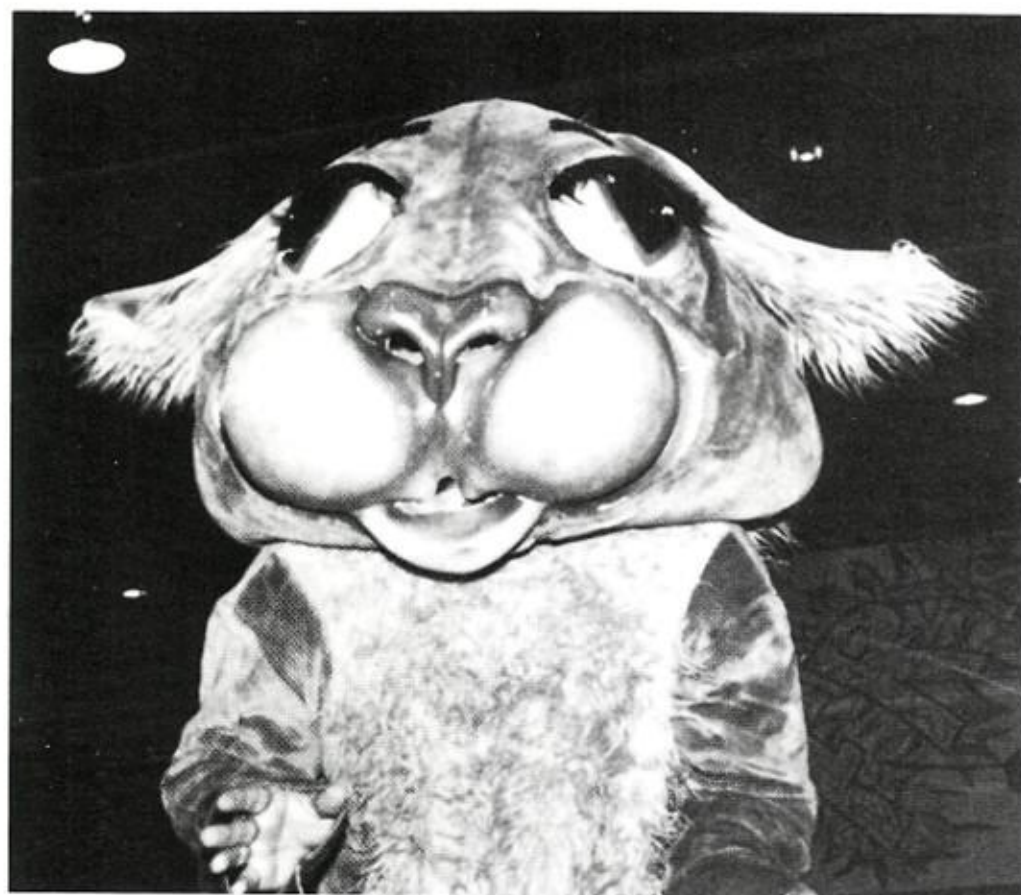

Life at St. Mark's School of Texas is Serious Business. As an institution of higher learning, St. Mark's is oriented toward the education and preparation of young minds for university study and the world that lies beyond. The students that attend it recognize this invaluable opportunity as one not to be wasted. Therefore, with a seriousness of purpose, the young scholars work diligently and ardently with the superior faculty and a variety of students to learn and absorb as much as possible from their experiences. Having acquired a vast amount of knowledge and intellectual growth, the Marksmen graduate.

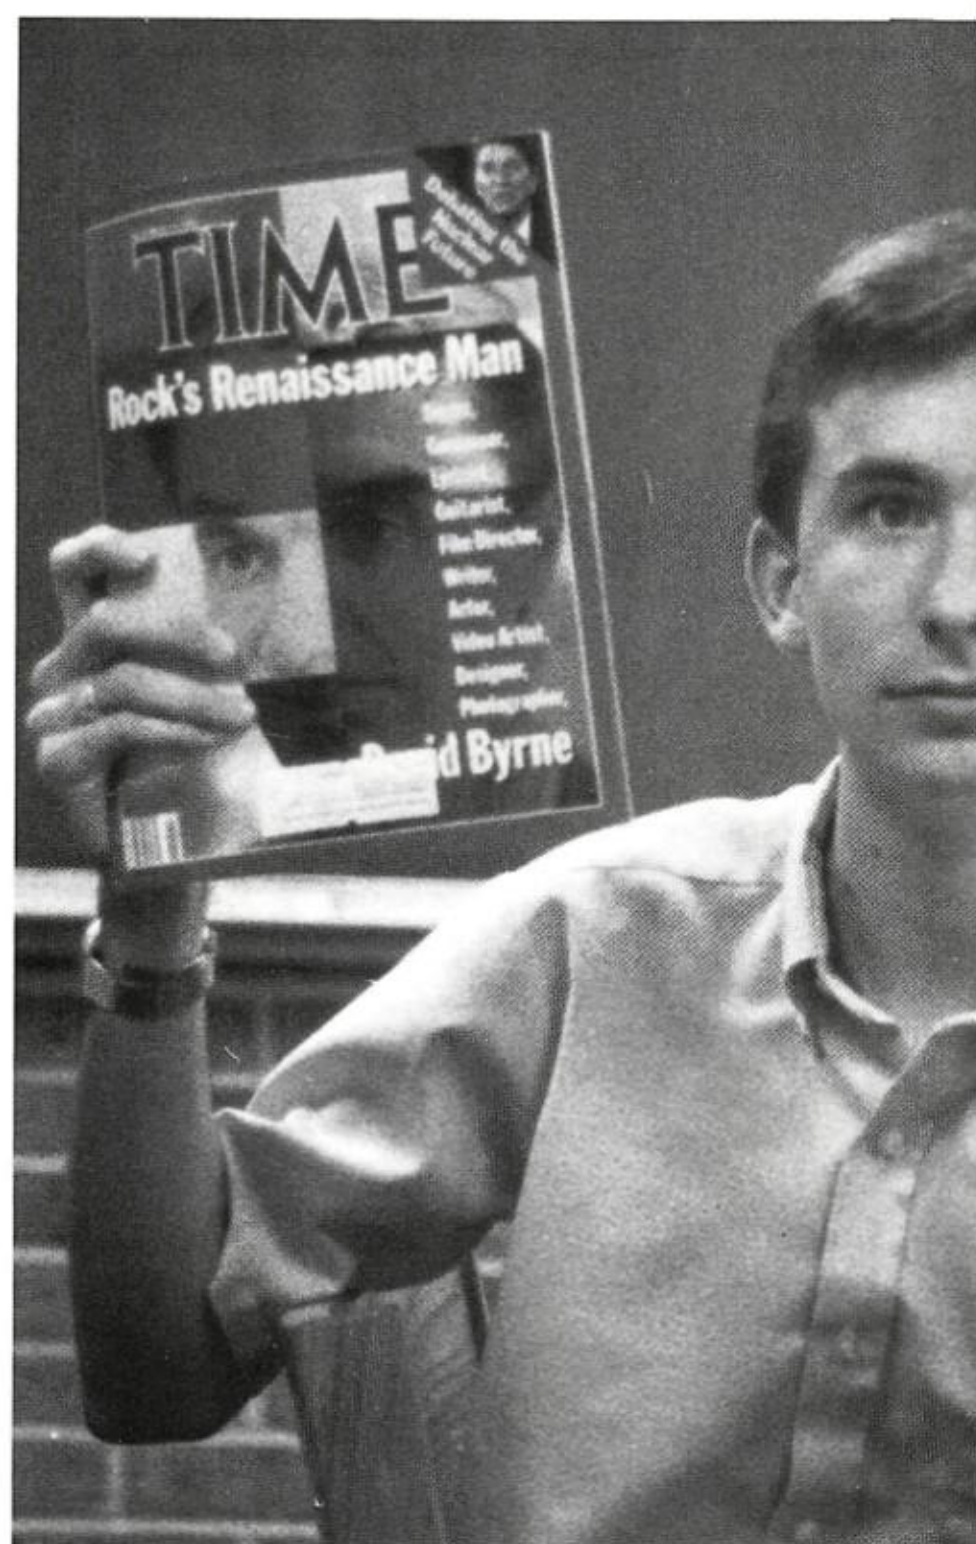

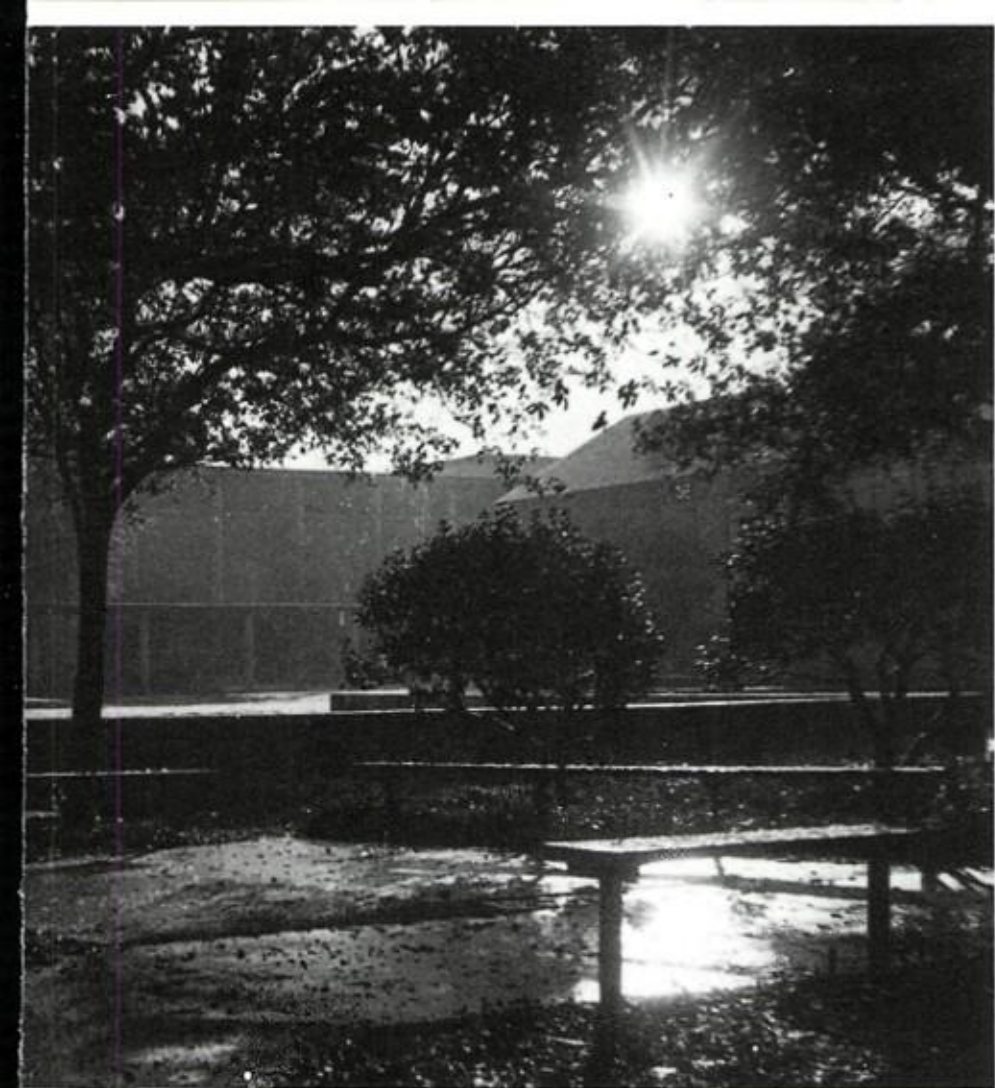

However, the serious nature of the St. Mark's student reaches far beyond the classroom. On the playing field, the Marksman works cooperatively on a time or individually with mental intensity and physical prowess to achieve his highest goals. As well, Marksmen participate in the propagation and expansion of school activities and organizations. In working through these, students enhance the quality of school life, as well as demonstrate sensitivity and responsibility for the community around them. Finally, the St. Mark's student is serious in one further aspect: in having fun. They are not afraid to show their casual and humorous side, even in the classroom. Whatever feat he attempts or in whatever pursuit he shows interest, the Marksman gives his earnest all. It is to this Serious Business that this book is devoted.

Dedication

For his commitment to the school community and to our class, we, the Class of 1987, dedicate the Marksmen to Mr. John B. Donovan — who through his talents as an administrator, his excellence as a teacher, his interest as a coach, his sage as an adviser, his support as a friend, and his good nature and sense of honor as a person, has affected us and enriched our lives quite unlike any other person. For this, to him we owe our utmost gratitude and respect.

Mrs. Reba Kohler talks to Mrs. Hicks at Grandparents Day. This special occasion gives grandparents the opportunity to see where their grandchildren go to school and what they learn.

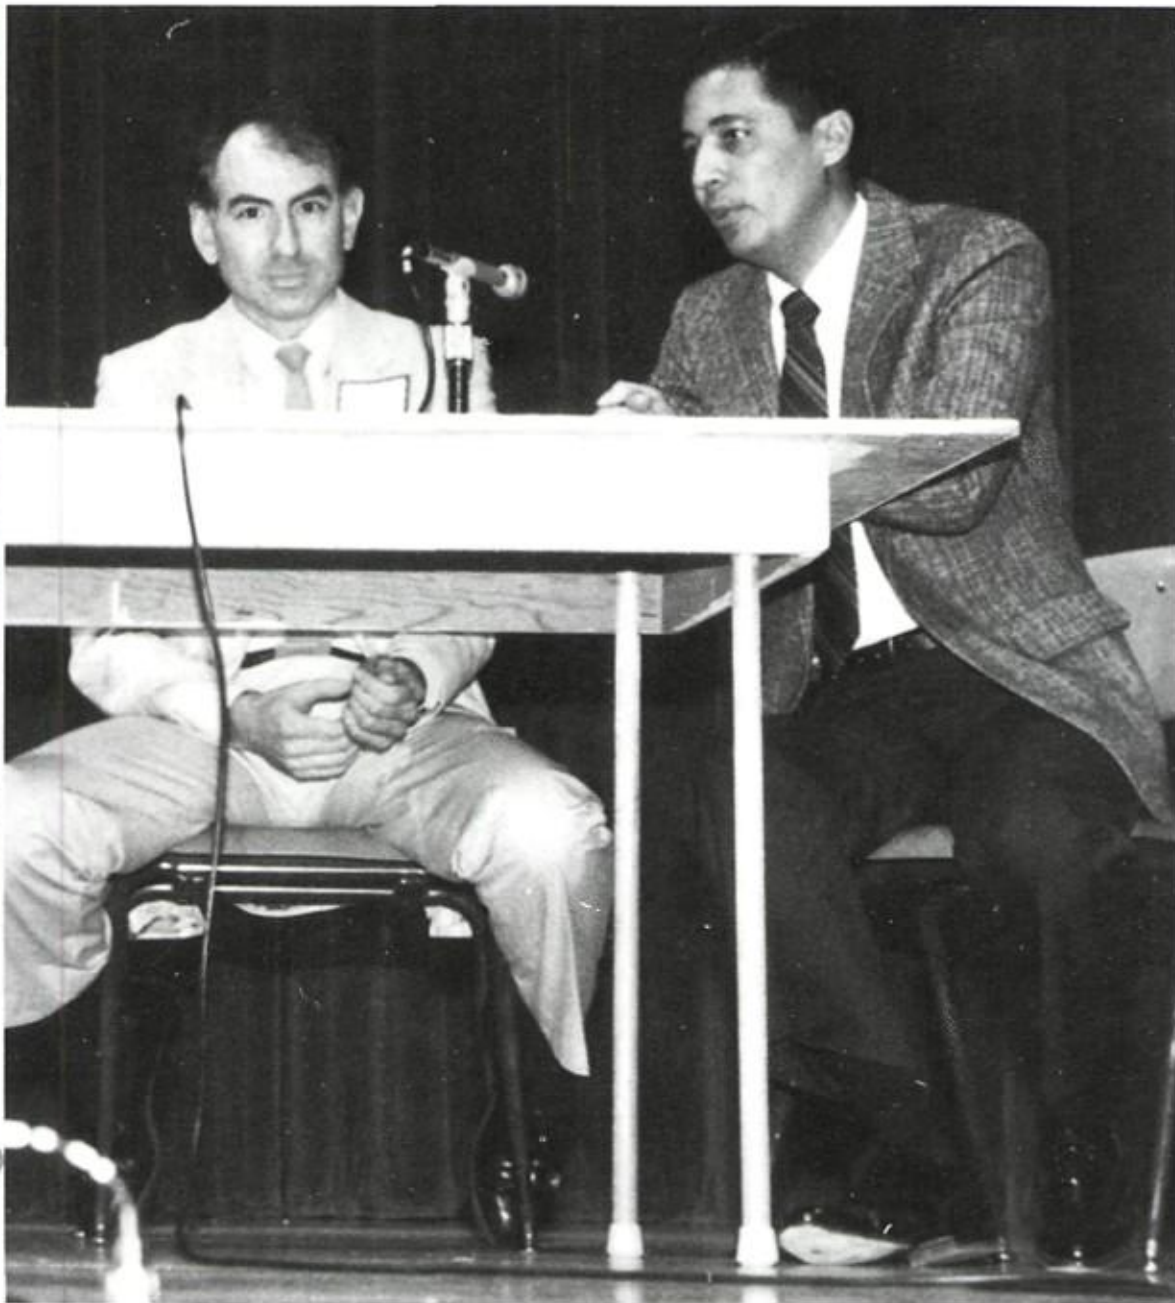

At the annual Blood Drive, several faculty members donate volumes of their most precious body fluids.

Once a year on Sex Day the senior classes of both St. Mark's and Hockaday meet to have small group discussions about sexuality in today's world, to hear lectures and view a TACT performance.

◀ On Issues Day the Sophomore class organizes and arranges for a group of experts to come to the campus and give a series of lectures on a specified topic. This year it was Central America.

▲ Mr. Morehead Kennedy, who had previously been taken hostage in the Iranian takeover of the American Embassy, addresses the upper school in a special assembly.

▲ Faculty member Mr. Ken Cameron-Bell speaks about the proposed schedule changes.

So that the students would have more opportunities to use the facilities, the library was held open from 1 am to 5 pm on Sundays. Two seniors and a student's father proctored.

Recently, upper schoolers were given the privilege of a student commons. The converted hallway now holds plush used furniture that the parents donated and offers students the opportunity to go and relax, talk, or get a snack. The commons are cleaned bi-weekly by the advisor groups and are casually patrolled by several commons deputies recently appointed by student council president David McAtee

◀ The Chapel Committee is made up of Upper School students selected by the Chaplain with the help of the Head of School and the Choir Director. The purpose is to give students a leading role in the planning and implementation of the Chapel program including subjects, speakers, and programs.

▲ The Student Concerns Committee was recently formed to discuss and attempt to resolve certain problems and issues concerning the student body and the school.

David McAtee . . . MAC . . . David Ray . . . DAVE . . . Rosebud . . . How will he be remembered? A 3-year member of Tom Splawski's Basketball Teams? A member of the B-Physics Club & Angus Scott Fan Club? A participant in the 1986 J.S.B.R.V.? A man who has learned to eliminate sleep? A neurotic, over-enthusiastic student leader? A man with one of the most twisted & confused social lives at Hockaday? A man w/an indiscriminating taste for friends from (God forbid!) public schools? A man who let Charlie sink his 1975 Impala axle-deep in a marsh? The only St. Mark's Alum to take a relative of Mr. Merten out on a date? The fool who spent over $300 as a freshman at JSB w/Charlie and Mike? A man with a '78 Blazer that would not be denied? A member of the 1986 Spring Break Vail ten-man stunt ski team ("Stop doing dat!")? A terror on wheels? A Go-Go wanna be? Hopefully, my transgressions and alleged antics will be forgotten and I will be remembered as sincere to those I love. To my friends — may we assemble again later in life. To Cindy C. — good luck towards your inevitable success. Don't forget the memories. To Krissy — all the advice and support that I can give. And, to Mom and Dad — I give thanks for every bit of extra-effort without which I would be nothing.

Wm. Shakespeare

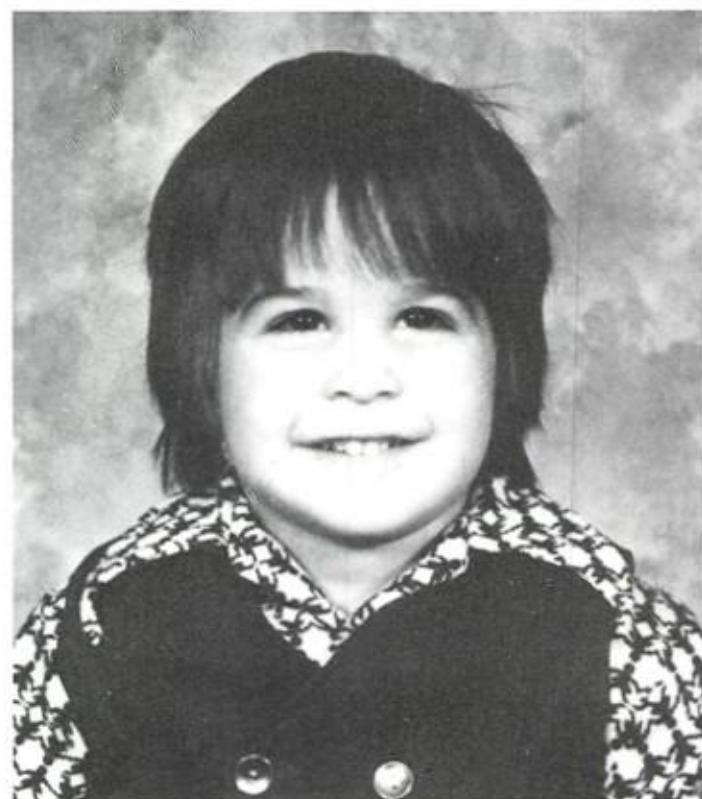

How many times must the cannonballs fly before they're forever banned . . . How many years must a mountain exist, before it is washed to the sea. How many years can some people exist before they're allowed to go free. How many times can a man turn his head and pretend that he just doesn't see. The answer my friend is blowin' in the wind, the answer is blowin' in the wind.

Well, I'm done. It's been a pain but well worth it. I've done my time in the fabulous city of Dallas; but now it's time to go. Of course I'll always look back on a few inspiring moments outside of the academic realm. Let's take a look . . . Well there's . . . um . . . oh . . . oh yea, I remember what a social life is now. OK in freshman year, Charlie, do you remember our soiree with Holmes the driver and the dynamic duo Laura and Michelle. Freshman JSB was the 1000$ evening enjoyed immensely by Charlie, Dave, and myself along with our exciting and most generous dates — Laura, Cindy, and Laura. What a deal — "don't forget that 250% limo gratuity boys!" Dave, you still owe me money for sophomore JSB., my first with Jill. For junior homecoming with Jill, I spent nothing and found 5 dollars in someone's car. For Christmas formal, I got to enjoy an entire evening staring at Sherwood and her money. And JSB '86, spending Mr. Curry's money was never so much fun. Damage for the total evening — $3800! Yea! In the senior year O.N. was the highlight of the social calendar . . . you're welcome. Just remember, in Dallas, money = social life . . . but at least I'm not bitter. Well, high school was hard and fast and . . . and over! Thanks Jill! You're beautiful! So have a great life, Mom, Dad, Kindra, myself. Thanks a lot, you're all awesome.

Student Council

For the Student Council, 1986-87 can best be described as a monumental year, characterized by record-breaking efforts and original ideas. For the first time in years, the council participated in a two day retreat to plan for the upcoming year. The Charity Bowl and picnic raised a record $3500 for the Family Place. Furthermore, by the end of September, the council opened the Student Commons that students had demanded for years. In October, the council worked on a revision of the current election system. The revision was ultimately passed in January by a 94% landslide. November began for the Student Council with a successful Homecoming Dance on the seventh, and ended as the council began collecting Christmas gifts for underprivileged children. The gifts collected were presented at the annual Christmas party in the chapel. Furthermore, the council formed a student committee, the Student Curriculum Review Committee, in December, to advise the administration on next year's monumental scheduling changes. In January, the council presented the first-ever "Low-Budget" Dance/Film featuring "The Creature From the Black Lagoon in 3-D." The Student Concerns Committee, made up of council members and class vice-presidents, revealed in February the rewards of their labors throughout the year. They successfully eliminated the writing assignment from the list of mandatory punishments and completed a comprehensive review of the service program, including changes which will go into effect next year.

Sherpa Club

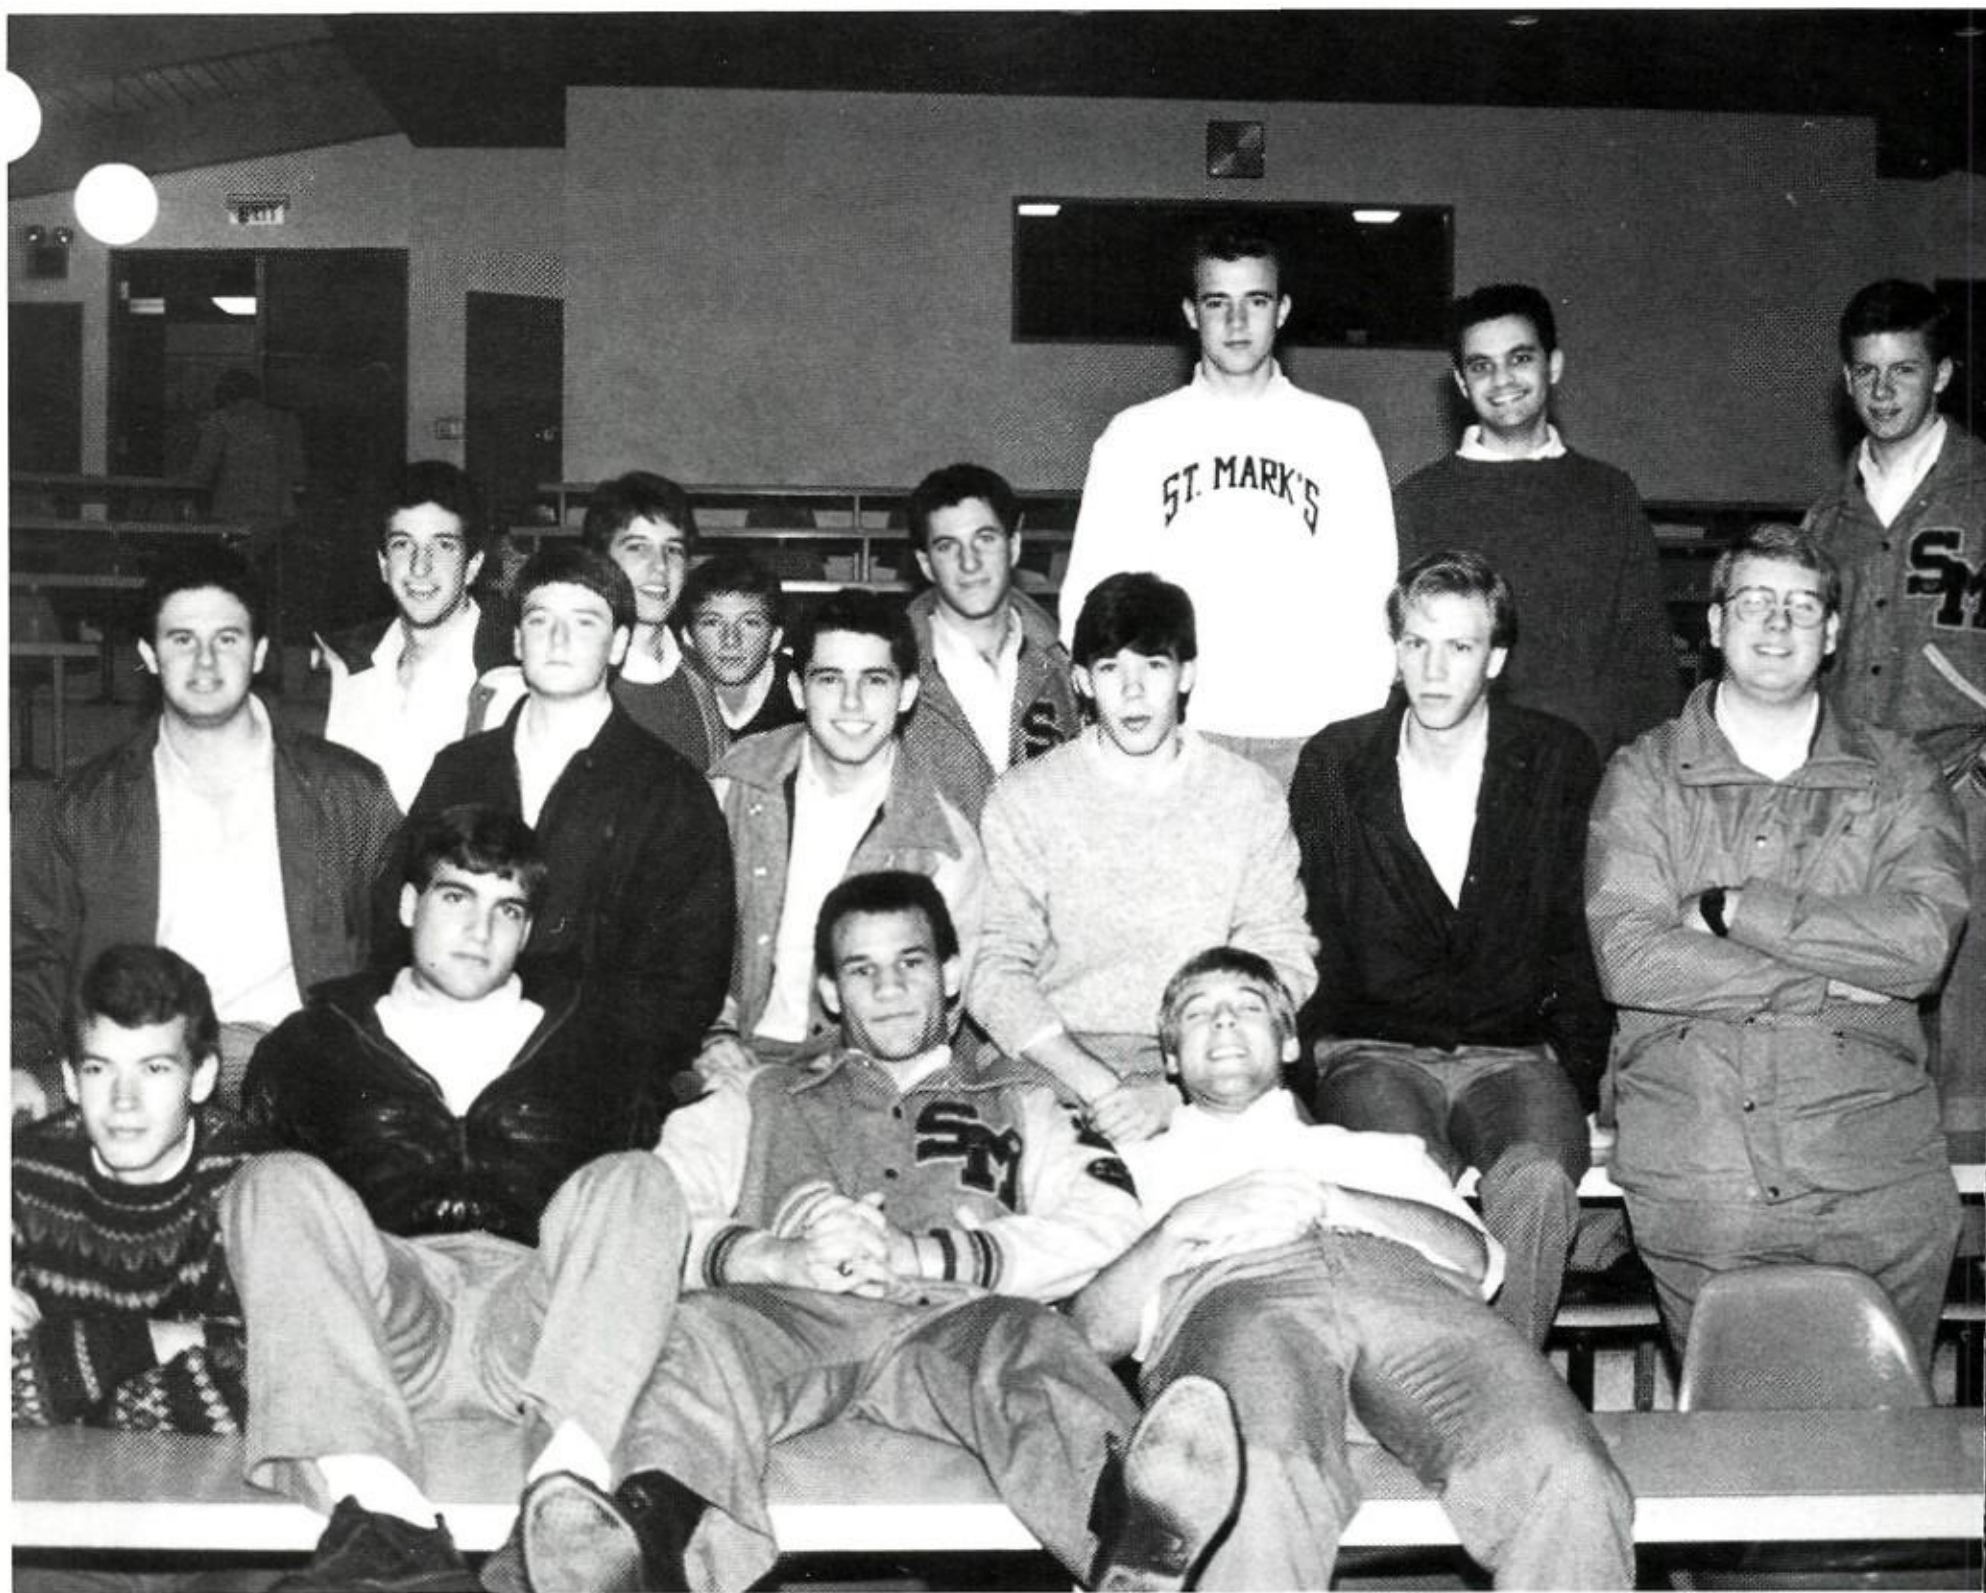

The Sherpa Club is for Upper Classmen who have a keen interest in outdoor activities and want to assist in the school's camping and wilderness programs. Under the leadership of sponsor Mr. David Pittman and President Cory Morrow, the Sherpas kept the Freshmen from perishing in The Pecos Wilderness, and they taught the 6th and 8th graders the skills required for wilderness survival.

International Club

This year, the International Club suffered a severe drop in participation, and was relatively silent in the first semester. The second semester, however, signaled the rejuvenation of the club, as they sponsored parties, cultural events, assemblies, and lunchtime entertainment, culminating in the annual celebration of International Week in March. Said President Robert Weathers, "I think we were highly successful this year in exposing the student body to a wide variety of cultures and customs." The International Club would like to thank Dr. Carolyn Schlak for her tremendous time and effort, and would like to congratulate AFS student Sebastian Roland on a very interesting year.

A.F.S.

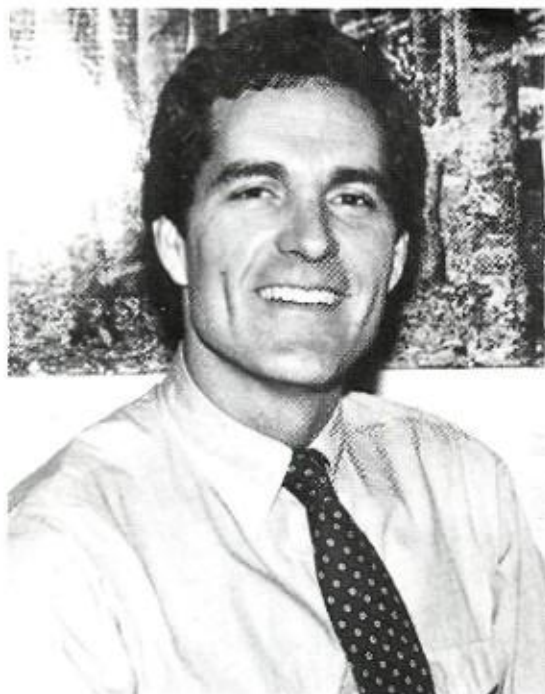

This year's AFS student was Sebastian Roland, hailing from Tours, a small town outside of Lyons, France. Sebastian lived with senior Andrew Rubin and his family during the year. His mastery of chess earned him school-wide fame, as no student was able to defeat him. Hopefully, Sebastian has gained as much from our community during his stay as we did from him.

Pershing Tutorial

Under the leadership of faculty sponsor Mr. Larry Cavitt, juniors and seniors from St. Mark's once again aided students from John J. Pershing Elementary School in the areas of english, math, and computer skills. The program has grown steadily in size since it's inception in the 70's, and this year brought the highest number of tutors yet. These students should be commended for helping those less fortunate than themselves.

Student Store

Reeling from the discontinuation of the swimsuit ad in the ReMarker, St. Mark's students were forced to cope with the new image of the Student Store. Managed by Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Roberts, and Senior Brad Telford, the store supplied materials to St. Mark's students and faculty. New items were introduced such as the "chameleon" pencils, that helped keep the store well in the black.

Discipline Council

The Council has had a productive year operating with its new charter which was approved last May. Under the guidance of the faculty sponsor, Ms. J. T. Sutcliffe, the Council produced a comprehensive definition of academic honesty at St. Mark's. The document is designed to reduce academic dishonesty clearly stating the rules and requiring that the students understand them and pledge to abide by them. To accompany this document, The Council also produced a list of suggestions for the faculty on how they may help to reduce dishonesty.

Lion and Sword

After years of stagnation and chaos, the Lion and Sword Society became organized this year. Under the leadership of first year sponsor Mr. Ed Young, the society adopted an organization hierarchy for the future which would be led by a president. He was assisted in redirecting the society by seniors Matt Kim and Richard Mullen and junior Stewart Stewart. All in all, 1986-87 was a great year for the school's unsung heroes and tour guides.

National Merit

Students scoring in the top 2 percent of high school students taking the PSAT/NMSQT test are recognized with National Merit Letters of Commendation. Those scoring in the top one half of one percent are recognized as National Merit Semifinalists. The Class of '87 shattered all previous records by registering 22 Letters and 22 Semifinalists. The Semifinalists will go on to compete for National Merit scholarships. These honored students should be commended for their achievements.

Astronomy Club

After about two years of rehabilitation, planetarium and observatory have had a very successful year this year. Under the leadership of President Peter Whitfill, Vice Presidents Darren Ream and Thomas Bowers and Faculty Sponsor Tom K. McCarthy, the Astronomy Club has successfully revived the Astronomical branch of the Science department. The Club has not only given many special events, but has also formed a monthly show called Skylab in which the Astronomy Club presents three or four celestial topics an orientation to that month's sky and a laser show using new scanning equipment designed and constructed by Peter Whitfill. Skylab will also help raise money for a new, portable 10 inch telescope.

The major event this year was probably the trip to MacDonald observatory in the Fall. This trip is also planned to become an annual trip. The club also made numerous trips to the TAS sites including the new site in Oklahoma.

The Texas Astronomical Society now has it's monthly meetings at the St. Mark's Planetarium which will not only give the club a great source of information, but the TAS also plans to help the club improve the facilities.

After such an exciting year, the Astronomy Club looks forward to an even more exciting next year.

Chess Club

Although organized in a very loose manner, the chess club encountered its most successful year yet, largely due to the triumphs of AFS student Sebastien Roland. Sebastien tied former world champion Boris Spasski and won the first Dallas-Ft. Worth Junior Open Chess tournament. Junior Jon Tyson placed sixth in that same competition. The Student Commons and Mr. Reichelderfer's office were also sites of hard fought chess battles. Sold Mr. Reichelderfer, "My favorite player is probably Werner von Braun; he's another one who made the great transition."

Math Team

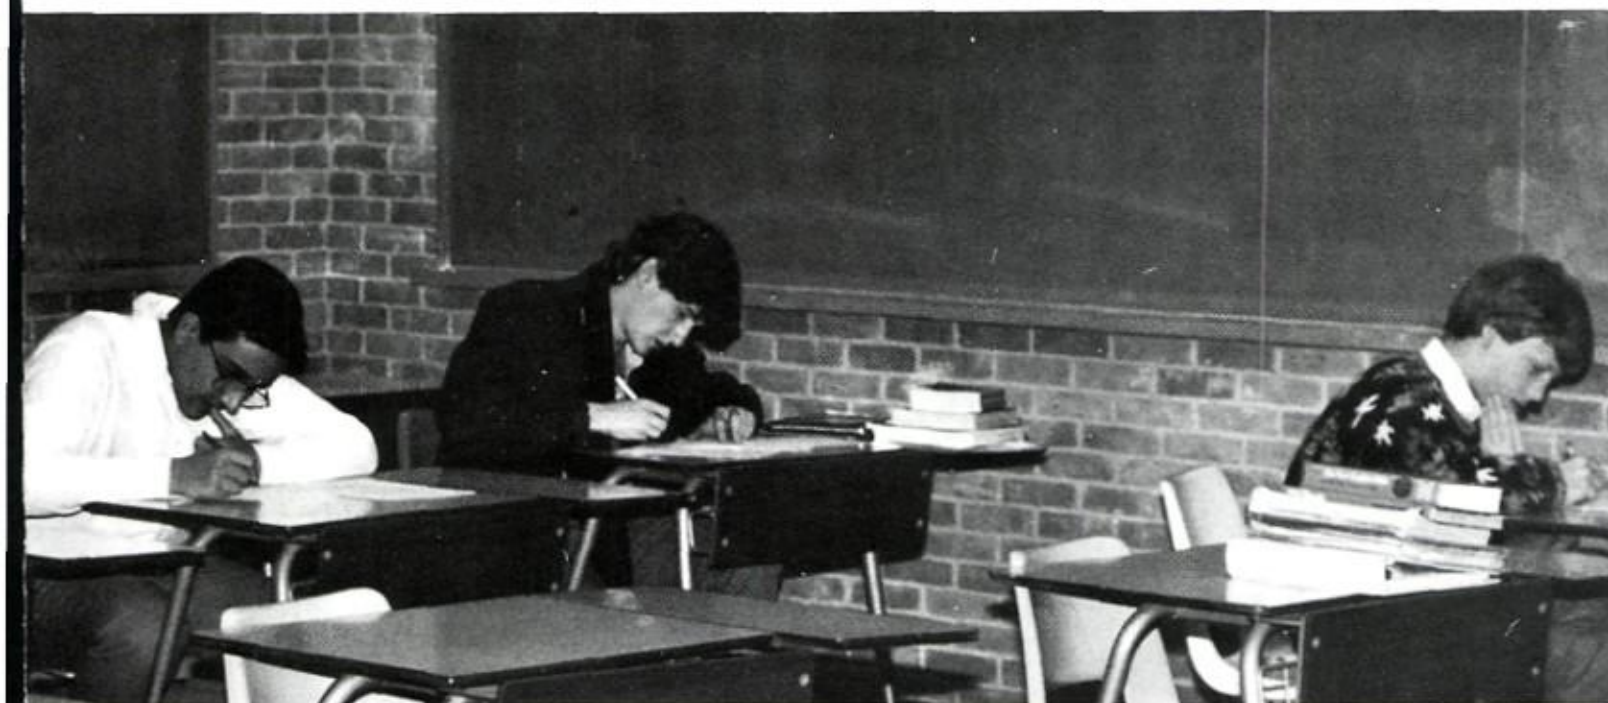

Under the direction of their fearless leader, Ms. J. T. Sutcliffe, 1986-87 was the Math Team's most active year yet. Every Wednesday morning at 7:30, ten-to-fifteen bleary eyed upper schoolers arrived in the math building to practice contest problems with Ms. Sutcliffe and Ms. Camack. With only one returning senior, Richard Gomberg, and one new member from the senior class, Michael Gunnin, the team had trouble placing well in contests, but Juniors Calvin Glenn, Juan Fernandez, Trevor Lain, Neeraj Sharma, and Jon Tyson, did well and should compete strongly next year.

While the upperclassmen took a van to Rice in Houston in February, the underclassmen went to Alamo Heights in San Antonio. Almost every team member placed high enough to receive an award, many winning more than one. The underclassmen took first place in the sweepstakes.

In addition, the team took another road trip to San Antonio to compete at Clark High School. With three road trips and competitions at Eastfield, Berkner H.S., and Richardson H.S. in Dallas, the team kept busy all year preparing for upcoming events.

◀ The Math Team takes the monthly TXML Test.

Whiz Quiz

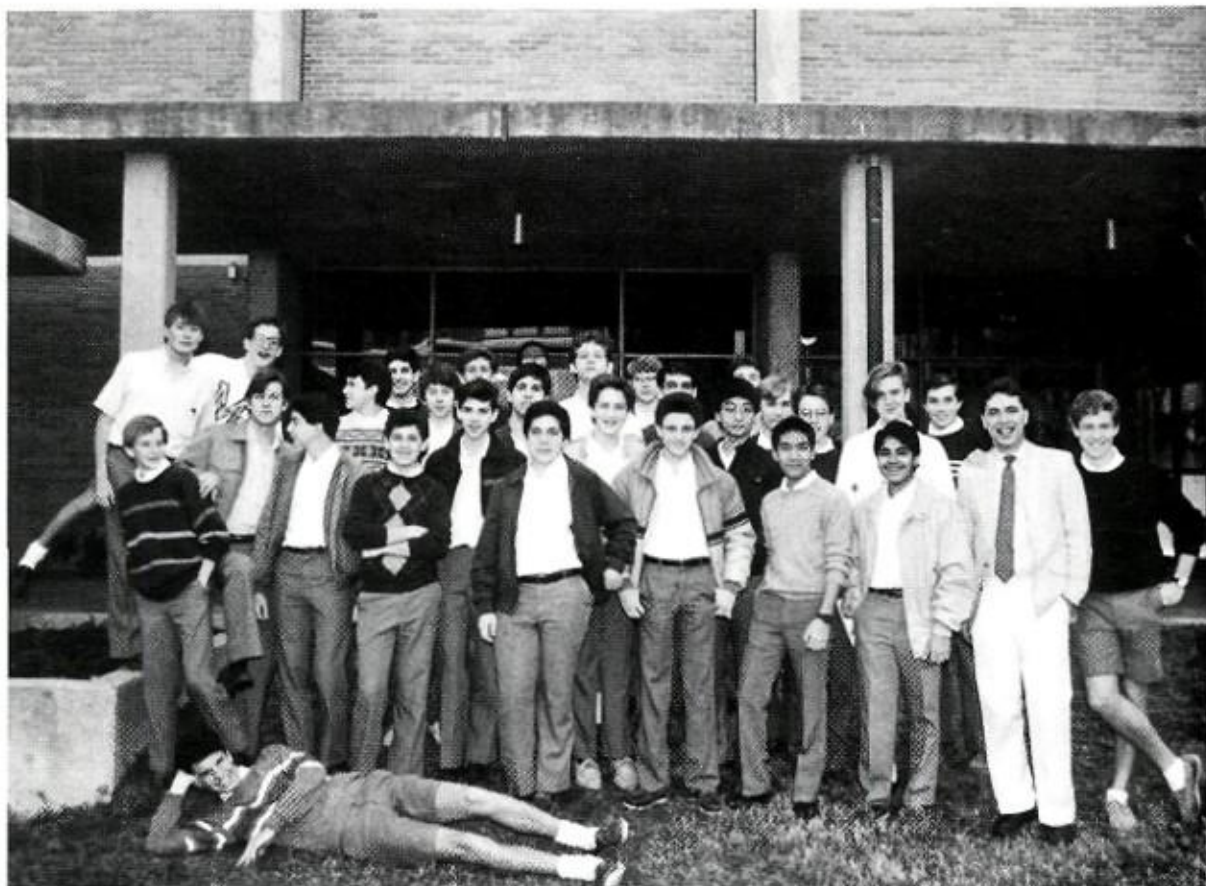

This year's Whiz Quiz team sank into anonymity, due in part to lackluster performances. Competing against such schools as Greenhill, Plano, and TAG, St. Mark's was able to amass 3 wins out of 6 matches. Participation has been down since 1984, when the team began deteriorating after years of success due to the graduation of star players. With a few more year though, a new team should rise out of the ashes of mediocrity.

Debate

Once again this year, the St. Mark's debate team dominated it's opponents on both local and national levels. Under the direction of head debate Mr. David Baker, varsity debaters took first place at the Hockaday and Highland Park tournaments, and registered some very impressive showings at Harvard, Redlands, Montgomery Bell Academy, and Emory. Also, for the first time since the inception of the program, individual events were officially organized, under the supervision of assistant debate coach Mr. Tom Sullivan.

The future of the debate program is also certainly bright, as the novice teams conquered five tournaments, including South Garland and Hockaday. The intensity and vigor of these freshmen will maintain the school's status as one of the premier debating institutions in the country.

Drama

Once again, the St. Mark's/Hockaday Drama Club put on a variety of entertaining productions under the leadership of Mr. Rod Blaydes and Ms. Trudy Wheeler. The group's November performance of the musical "Guys and Dolls" was tremendously successful and seemed to set the tone for the rest of the year. February brought the production of "Antigone," a contemporary interpretation of the ancient tale of the tragic fall of Oedipus' daughter. The final performance of the year was the tremendously satirical "The Miser." The success and popularity of the year's performances is a tribute to the diligence and enthusiasm of the gifted actors and actresses.

Choir/Chorus

The boys' choir began this monumental year by travelling to England during the summer, singing in legendary churches such as Canterbury Cathedral. The group, under the direction of Mr. James Livengood, traced it's roots as an Anglican choir to King's College at Cambridge. In December, the chorus joined the boys in the annual celebration of the Festival of Nine Lessons and Carols.

The Chorus also joined the Hockaday choir to perform in several informal concerts. Finally, the boys and men put on the dazzling musical "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dream Coat." The production was a huge success, and an upnote ending to the careers of ten seniors.

Band

Apprehension filled the hearts of band members this year with the loss of talent due to graduation. Amazingly though, senior trumpeters Orrin Stevens and Matt Kim with help from a strong underclass managed to keep the concert band from folding due to a lack of experienced brass players. The studio band had a rebuilding year with many key 11th grade members learning the ropes. Seniors Tim Mank, Cory Morrow, Scott Mattoon, and Darrell Eikner returned to lead the trombone and rhythm sections to an outstanding final concert featuring a full suite of modern concert band music.

Orchestra

This year's orchestra suffered from the same problem as many other organizations in it's lack of outstanding upperclass talent. Despite that, conductor Yves L'Helgoual'ch once again led the players to an outstanding final concert with eighth grade concert master Kenny Hsu leading — an example of the improvement being the difference in technique between the winter and spring concerts. Senior Darrell Eikner's performance of "The Worried Drummer" will be remembered for years to come for it's ordered chaos.

Film Society

In its 19th year, the Film Society reemerged as a productive and successful school activity. Under the leadership of President Rob Goodman and faculty sponsor Mr. Michael Bennett, the Film Society paid off its three year debt of $220 and made a profit of just under $300. Perhaps the greatest event of the year was the movie/dance on January 31st. The Film Society presented the 3-D classic "The Creature From the Black Lagoon" and the Student Council provided the music, decorations, and the refreshments. Monty Python's "And Now For Something Completely Different," Alfred Hitchcock's thriller "Psycho," and other shows added to the Film Society's successful year.

KRSM

Operating at a frequency of 88.5 megahertz, KRSM continued to play a wide variety of music for its huge audience. Under the superb leadership of station managers Steve Leggatt and Allan Hayslip, seniors operated the weekday morning shifts while underclassmen dominated the weeknights and weekends. Senior Hans Muller and Doc Hartzell produced live, play-by-play broadcasts of all Lion football games. The annual marathon, lasting 50 hours, was held in late November and raised hundreds of dollars for the East Asian Refugee Center. The station enjoyed one of its largest audiences ever, and it stands as one of the few activities in which the students can express their own individualism at St. Mark's

ReMarks-a-Lot

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Cameron-Bell, the ReMarks-a-Lot burst into the world of big times news reporting. With the help of ReMarker associate editor Calvin Glenn, the Middle School paper took on a more professional look, using photographs and printing typeset articles on newsprint. The articles focused more on school related events, while letters to the editor and features were added to the papers format. The ReMarks-a-Lot was distributed as an insert in the ReMarker. the unique experience these young reporters are gaining will certainly prepare them for the hectic atmosphere of the ReMarker.

The Middle School Literary Magazine

Along with this year's changed Remarks-A-Lot, the Middle School now has another publication to offer. The Middle School Literary Magazine offered poems, essays, short stories, and other types of creative writing. The magazine, published at the end of the third quarter, is sponsored by English teacher Mr. John Beall. The magazine was open to submissions from all grades in the Middle School.

MARQUE

Under the co-editorship of seniors Gus Stringel and Andy Rao, the Marque underwent some dramatic changes in length, organization, and editing. Student submissions climbed to more than 300 works, and as a result the magazine doubled in size. An increased staff resulted in a more efficient work schedule, while the hierarchy altered the editing process to allow for more underclassmen participation.

The Rag

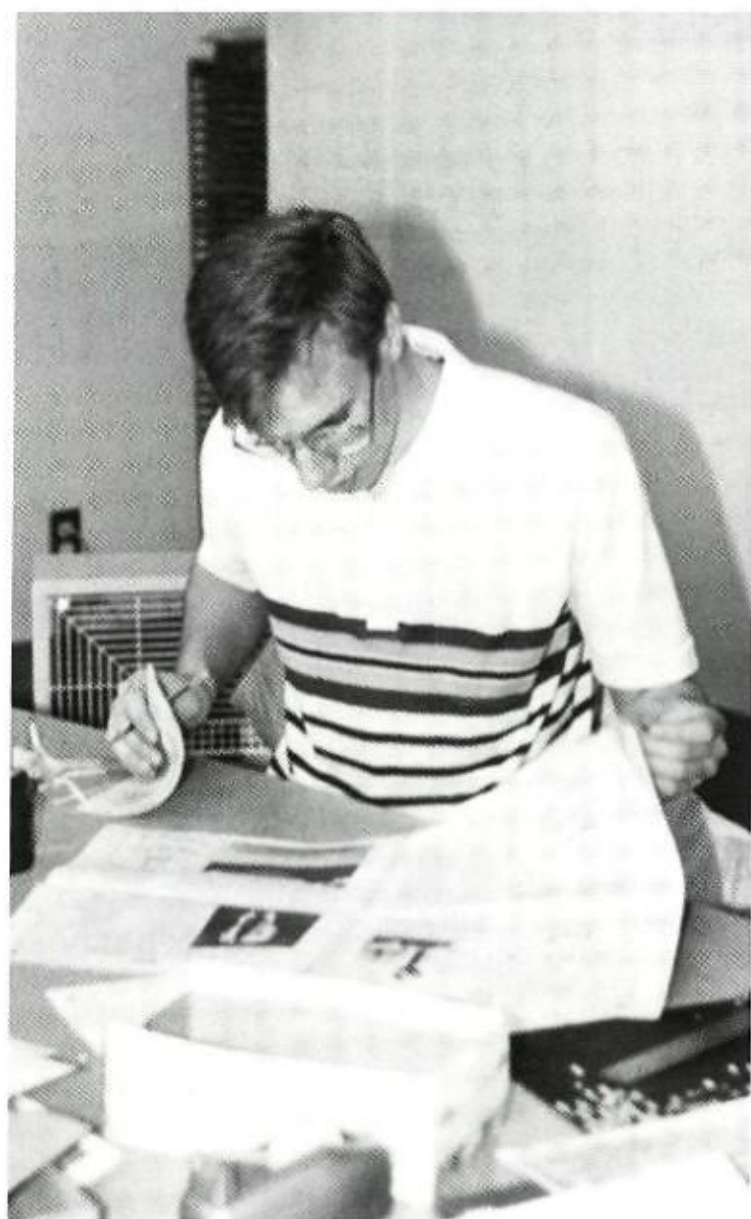

In its second year, the Rag significantly increased its pool of submissions and was managed by a vibrant, enthusiastic team of editors. The literary magazine published poems and short stories from several upper schoolers, and developed the concept of "dudism." Said senior Brad Telford, "Dudism is the kind of work that, upon its reading, your automatic response is to say, 'Dude'. If it's really good, you say, 'Dude; Society'."

ReMarker

1986-87 was an unusually successful year for the ReMarker. Under the leadership of Editor-in-Chief Charles Stewart, Managing Editors Matt Kim and Steven Klemow, and faculty sponsor Randall Holdridge, the paper underwent a change in format for the first time in many years, strove to increase underclassman involvement, and communicated the news with its usual excellence in reporting. The ReMarker also achieved great financial success, as Business Manager Josh Cohen amassed monumental profits destined to aid the paper for years to come.

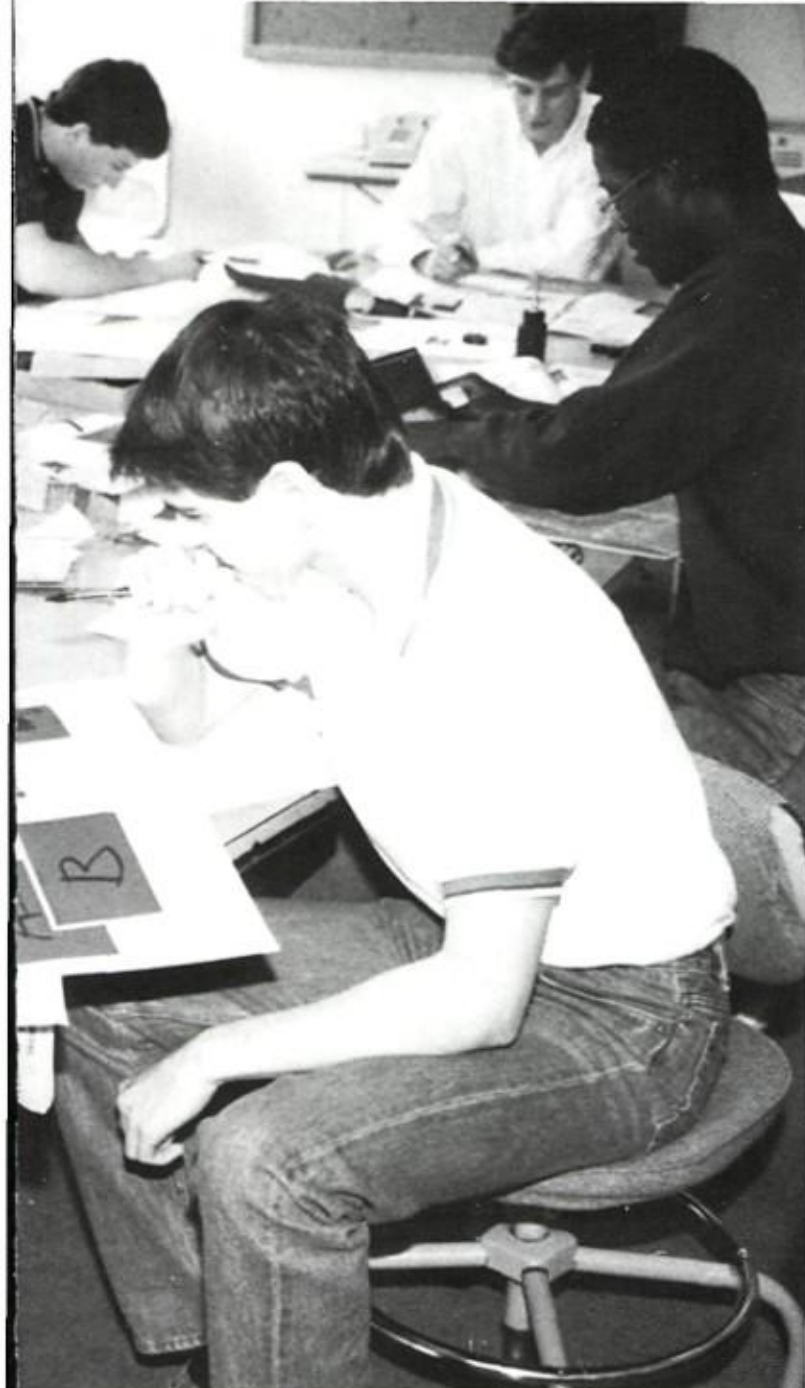

Special attention this year was given to the Comanche Peak nuclear facility, the master plan, the Campaign, "Little Asia," and an interview with sportscaster Norm Hitzges. A unique feature on human sexuality also highlighted the year. This year will certainly be known as one of the most revolutionary in the last thirty years of the ReMarker.

MARKSMEN

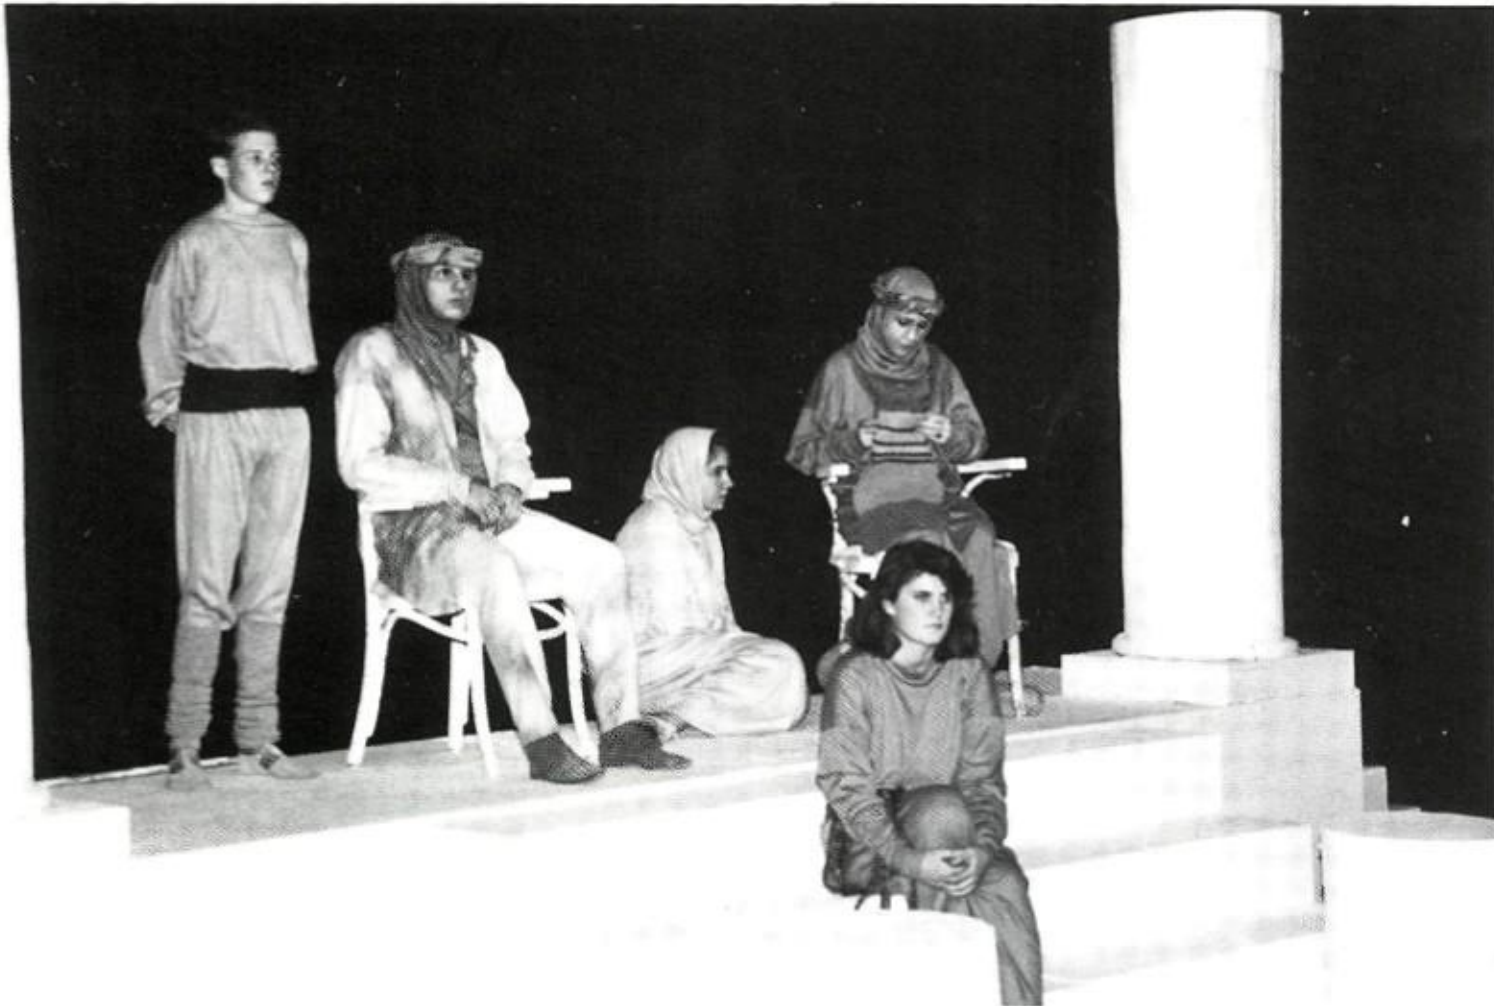

Fellow Students —

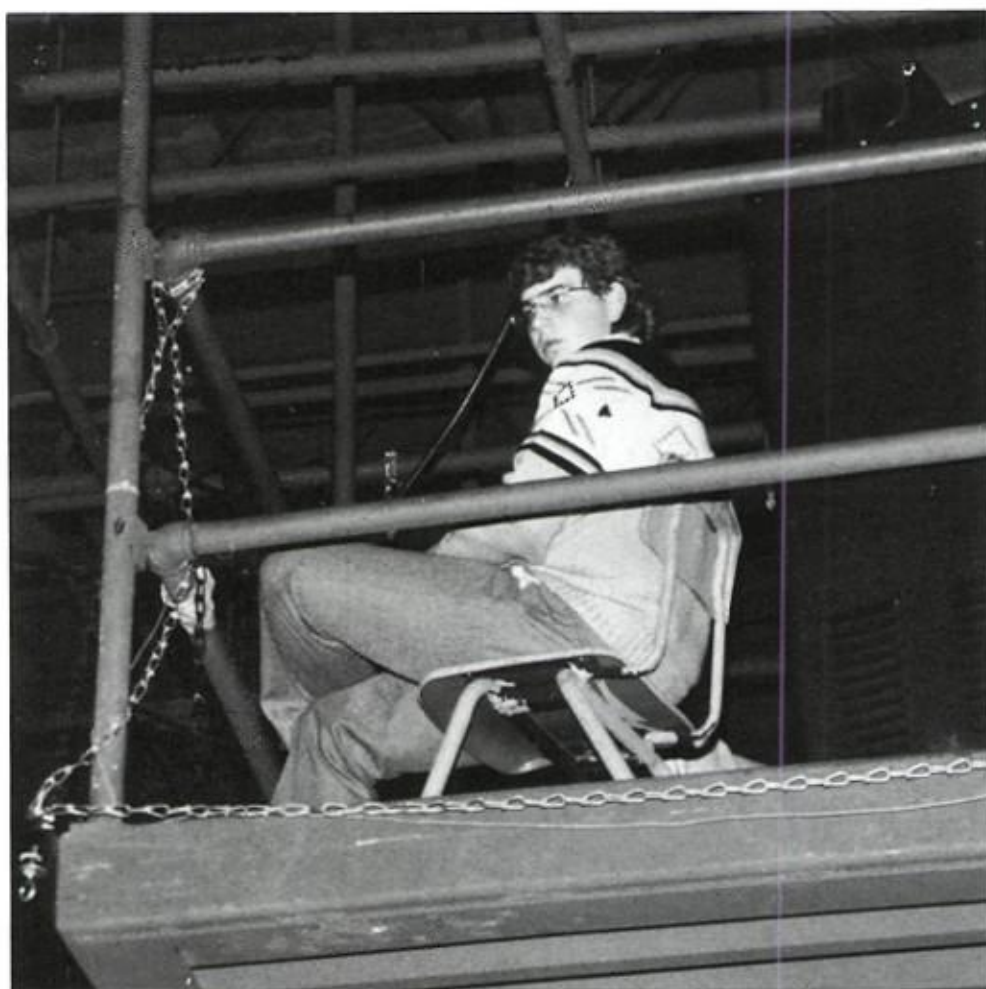

The 1986-87 school year is nearly over and eight months of hard painstaking work have come to an end. Finally, believe it or not, our book is in publication. In designing it, I attempted to select a theme and style representative of the school in this stage of its life: Serious Business. In the actual mechanical production of this year's Marksmen, we were once again plagued by a lack of experienced staff members. Despite our inadequacies, my staff and I produced a yearbook that we can be proud of. Like any fine work, it has the usual minor errors and inconsistencies. However, I hope that these will be overlooked and its strengths emphasized. Finally, I would like to thank anyone who assisted with or contributed to the production of this book. Your help was invaluable and you will not be forgotten. Special thanks go to Mr. Foxworth for his patience and support.

SPORTS

Football

Under the guidance of coaches Jerry Reese and John Allman the Varsity Lions finished the year with a fine record, bringing the SPC trophy back to St. Mark's. During the fourth week of the season in a must win situation, the Lions faced arch rival Kinkaid. With a pair of second quarter touchdown passes by Austin Neuhoﬀ the Lions broke the game open and went on to defeat the two year reigning champs 23-13. Another big highlight of the season was the Homecoming annihilation of Greenhill. After accepting considerable ridicule from Greenhill for two years, the Lions let their pads do the talking, shutting down the Greenhill attack to nothing, while racking up 31 points with our own offensive machine.

Cross Country

Under the leadership of senior and team captain, Wes Weinhart, as well as coaches Andrew Mailer and Jeff Cole, the 1986-87 cross country team performed well throughout the season. The team was composed of juniors Dillon Parker, Seth Sachson and Robert Koster, sophomores Gilbert Prado, Tyler Cooper and John Gough and freshmen Chris Gunnin and James Jones. With a great deal of fun and games and a small amount of work the team improved a great deal; especially James Jones who never stopped striving to be better. The team finished third in the SPC meet due to several illnesses, but the team's spirit vanquished depression and the team members returned to their homes amidst much laughing, joking and various other forms of gaiety.

Volleyball

The 1986 volleyball season promised to be a successful one for St. Mark's. With six returning players from last year's maiden team, and several highly talented newcomers, everyone was confident that the Lions' could establish themselves as a power in SPC. Casady and Jesuit (a club team) decided to add their names to the list of competitors, along with Greenhill and ESD. Two four-team tournaments were organized during the regular season, and they proved to be one of the Lions' downfalls (1-2, 0-3). As they played more matches, St. Mark's seemed to be destined to mediocrity. Midseason, the Lions' restored their tarnished name with a victory over Hockaday, but the team remained in the doldrums. However, the outlook seemed to brighten as the team gained momentum towards the end of the season. Freshman Bill Mattoon, a junior varsity player with a consistent serve, and sophomore Brent Johnson, who had recently recovered from a broken wrist, were called upon as specialty players and caused something of a sensation. Brent and his looonnngg arms (a.k.a. 'The Twin Towers') took care of a lot of blocking, and Bill pulled out a few aces. St. Mark's finished the regular season by winning three out of the last four (against ESD, Greenhill, and Casady), giving them a record of 9-8 (two victories against Greenhill, one over ESD, four versus Casady, and two against Jesuit).

Optimism and spirit were overwhelming as the team charged into SPC. On the first day, the Lions went 2-1, defeating ESD and Casady in two games a piece, and losing to Greenhill in an arduous, emotional match late that evening. The following day, however, was not so successful. The team lost to Greenhill again, beat Casady, and then lost to ESD in yet another closely contested match. With a record of 3-3, St. Mark's took third place to Greenhill and ESD. Three players were appointed 1st team all SPC: Scott Mattoon, Tim Barkow, and captain Bryan Dixon. Brent Johnson and captain Kevin Hawkins received honorable mention.

Water Polo

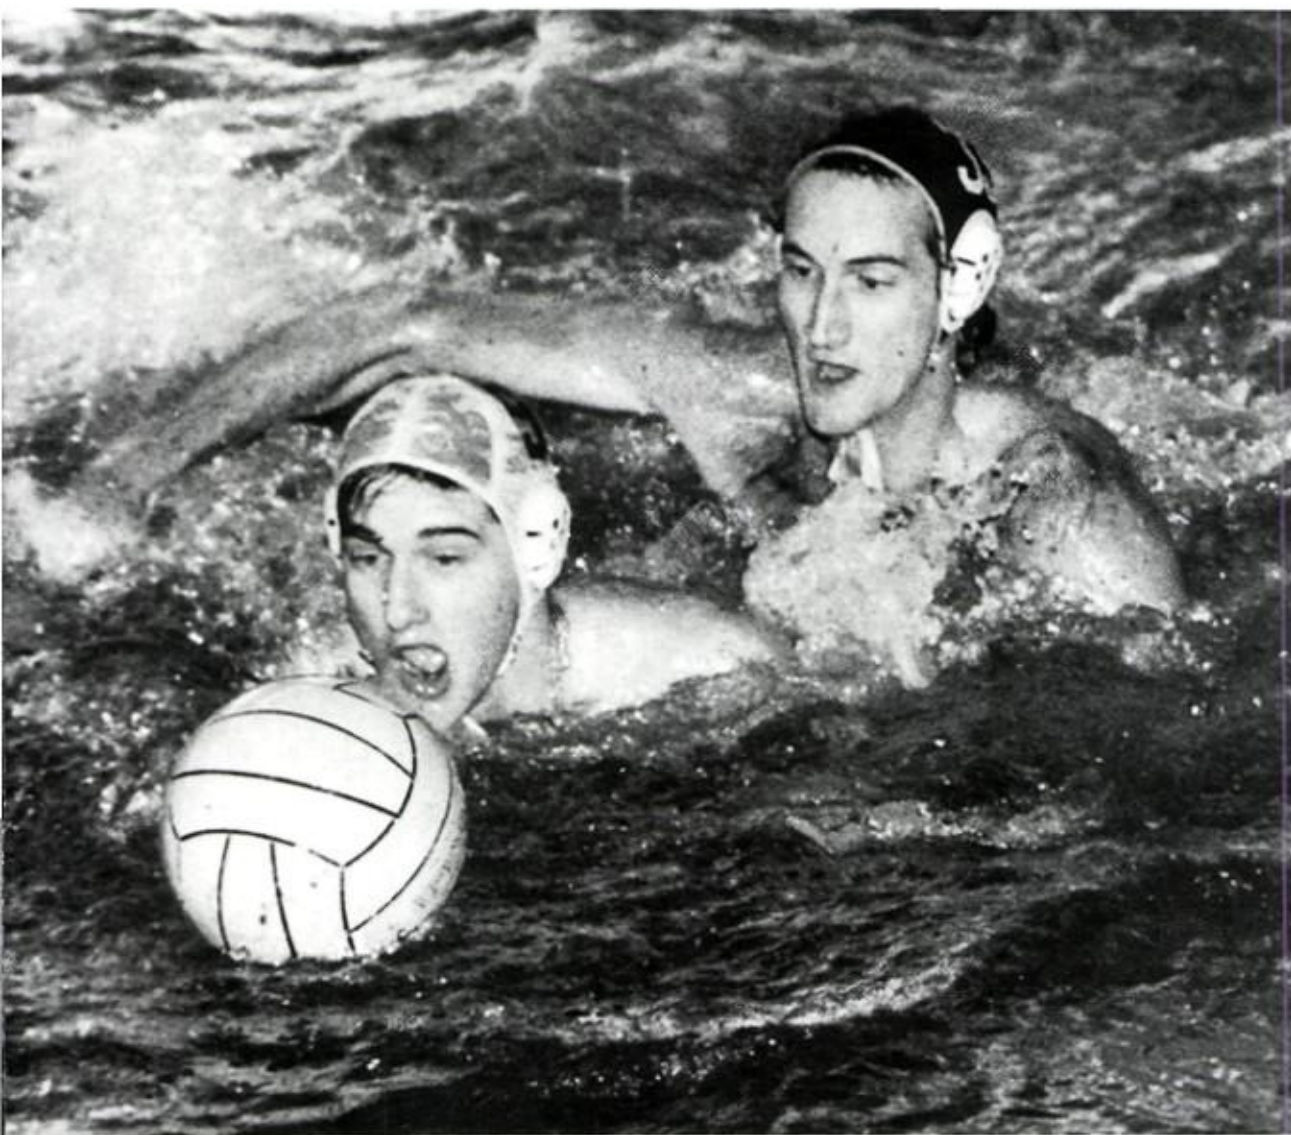

In its drive to win state, the 1986 Water Polo Team faced the most formidable competition that any St. Mark's Athletic Team has ever faced. The team began the season by attending a 3 day instructional seminar coordinated by Monte Clark, the U.S. Olympic Team Coach, and instructed by Jody Campbell and other players from the U.S. men's and women's teams. Using this knowledge, St. Mark's placed second in its first tournament of early September, beating such 5A powerhouses as Galveston Ball. Soon afterwards, the Lions garnered second place in a San Antonio tournament which featured Clark, Marshall, Jay and other huge schools. However, in early October, the St. Mark's team boldly stepped where no St. Mark's team has stepped before. St. Mark's entered a Division I NCAA Varsity Water Polo Tournament. Though the Lions fell to the University of Texas, Rice, and The University of Arkansas by close margins, the team beat the Aggies of Texas A&M with an incredible display of Water Polo. (The St. Mark's football team has protested that they could beat the A&M football team but few critics agree.) Building from the tournament, the Lions established themselves as a power by placing for the staff tournament as the number 2 team in the Southeast Region of Texas. In state, the team opened with a close loss to eventual finalist Jay by the score of 7-9. In years past, the tournament brackets would have allowed the Lions to continue competing until they lost again, a policy which would have allowed the Lions to claw their way back into contention for the title. This year though, the tournament was a single elimination affair, and the Lions were forced to play for 5th place, a game they won handily. Though the entire starting team will have graduated, the Lions may depend on the play of juniors Trevor Lain, Matt Bush, Kirby Fogel, Mike Levy, sophomore Hodari ("The Animal") Merrick, and freshmen Thomas Toland and Tony Toranto. St. Mark's will miss senior playmakers Jim McGill, Greg Naardon, Brad Lengyel, Richard Gomberg, John Herbert, 2 meter man Todd Guthrie, and high scorer and team captain David McAtee.

Basketball

This year's Basketball Team underwent a season of transition. The team's losing record is not totally indicative of its accomplishments though. The Lions played well early in the year, as they beat an undefeated First Baptist team on December 6th. That victory took place en route to a second place finish in the Adidas Dallas-Ft. Worth Private School Tournament. The Lions were led by senior co-captains Paul Genender and Austin Neuhoﬀ in this tournament, as each player received All-Tournament honors. The Lions also played the top calibre public schools early in the year. A close loss to 4-A power Hillcrest was impressive for the Lions, as was their valiant performance against Highland Park.

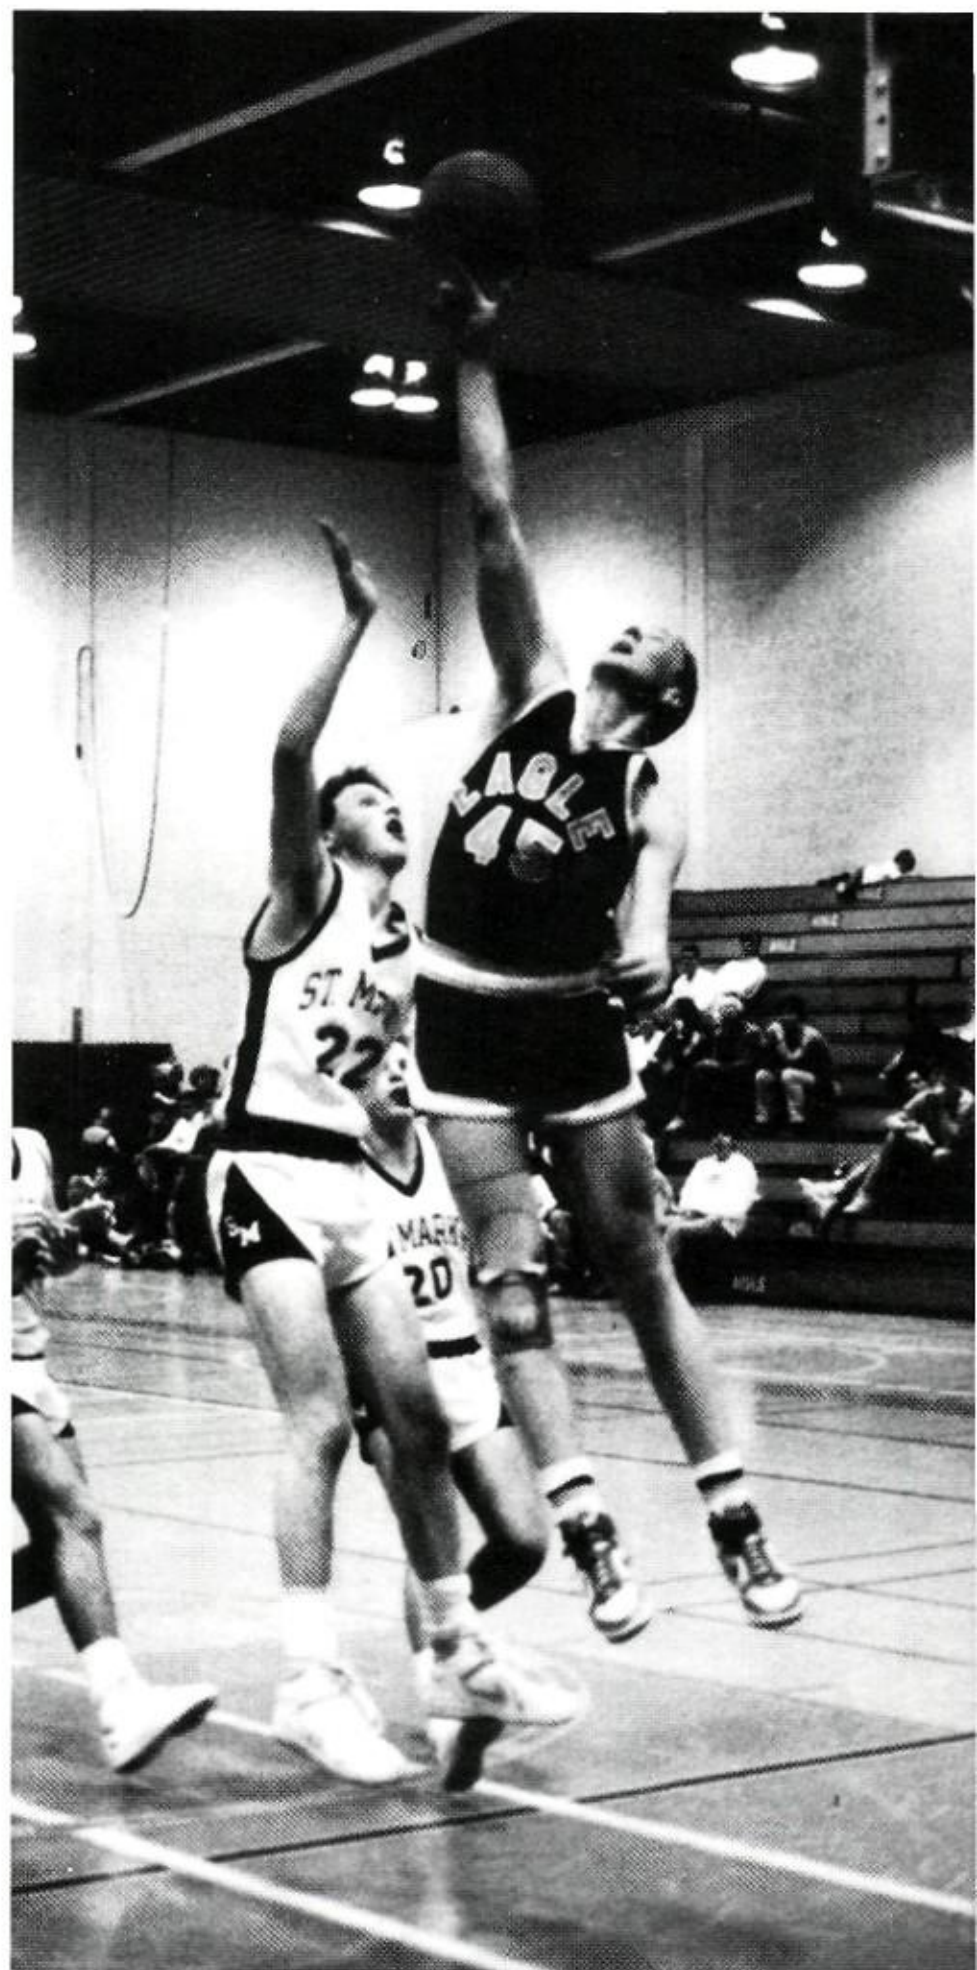

The Lions' downfall occurred after the Christmas vacation. After impressive victories over ESD and Bishop Dunne, the Lions went on an eight-game losing streak. The most painful of these setbacks was at the hands of SPC rival, Ft. Worth Country Day. From this point on, the Lions knew it would be an uphill battle to get into Division I of SPC. The Lions were 1-1 in SPC games at that point and had only games against Holland Hall and Casady in Tulsa and a home contest against Greenhill remaining on their schedule.

On February 6th the Lions played Holland Hall in Tulsa. It was a valiant effort by the Lions as St. Mark's led throughout the game only to be tied by Holland

Hall, thus forcing overtime. The Lions lost, 50-45, but remained optimistic about their game against Casady, which they won, 42-38, the next day. That victory insured St. Mark's a place in Division I despite the fact that they were defeated handily by Greenhill later that week. By being the fourth seed in the North Zone, the Lions had to play undefeated (29-0) Kinkaid of Houston in the first round of the SPC Tournament (Feb. 19-21).

The Lions led for the first half against a powerful Kinkaid team before losing 62-53 in a fine game that masked a strong effort by a scrappy Lion team. In the remainder of the tournament, the Lions lost to Greenhill and defeated St. John's to claim 7th place in SPC.

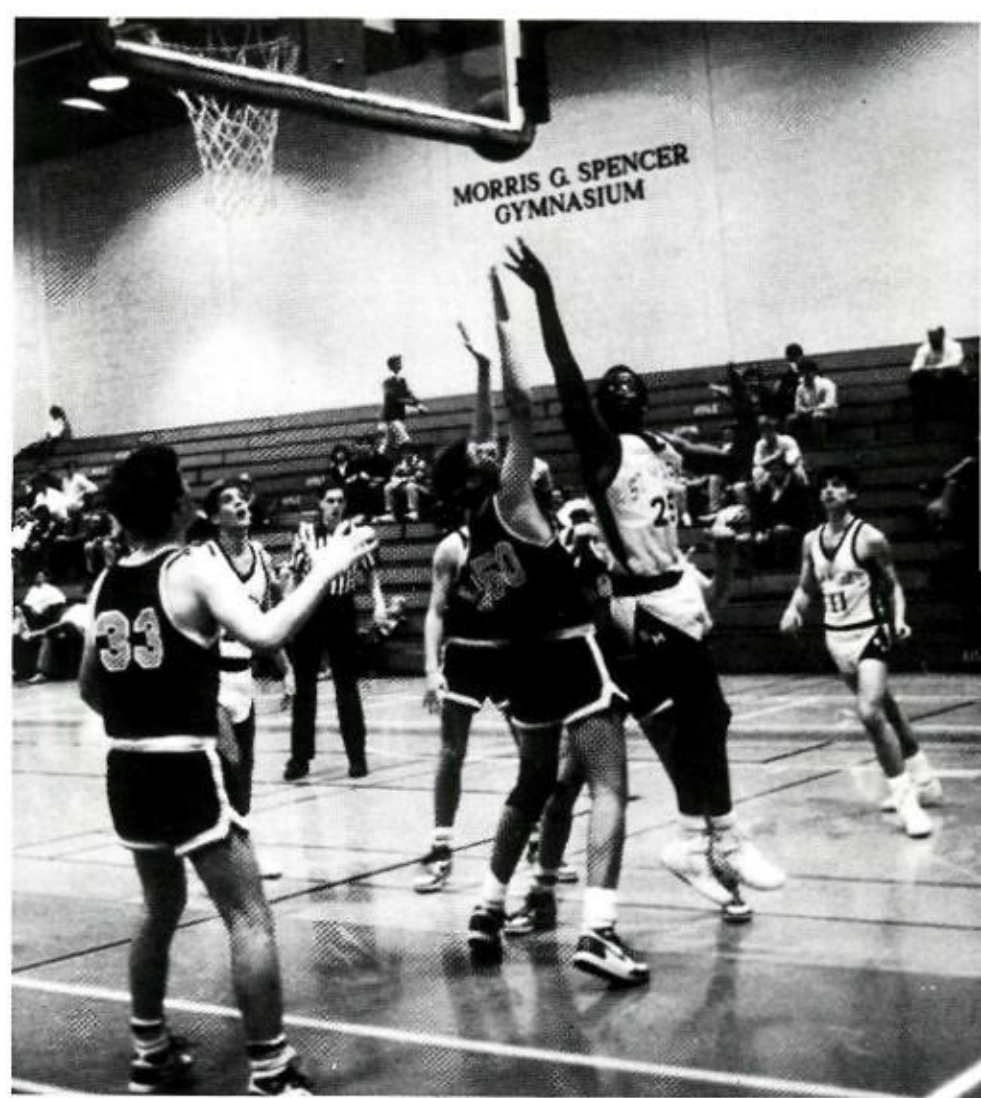

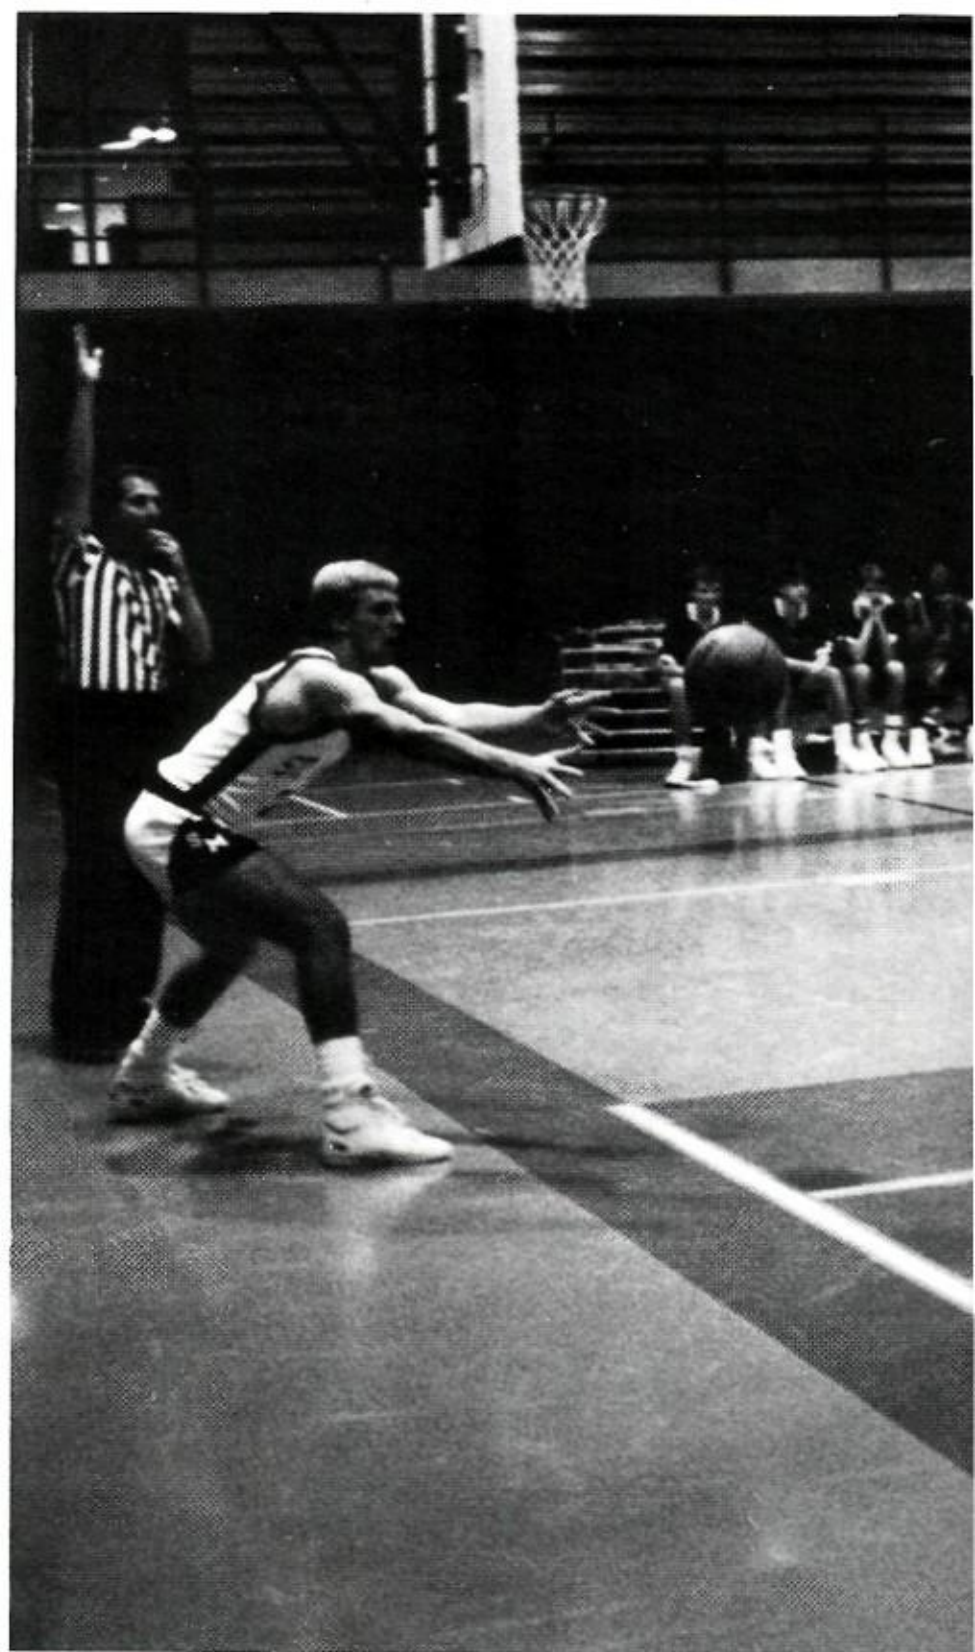

Overall, this season proved both disappointing and promising. The three co-captains, Seniors David McAtee, Austin Neuhoﬀ, and Paul Genender, provided the leadership and production for the team. Senior Greg Fomin provided consistent bench scoring as did junior sharpshooter Eric Snyder. The surprise of the year was sophomore point guard Barry Wernick who averaged 8 points per game. Junior Collin Wilson (8 ppg), Austin Neuhoﬀ (8 ppg), and Paul Genender (10 ppg) rounded out the scoring load. Junior Carl Ginsberg led the team in rebounds (7 pg) while playing fine defense down low. The Lions have a wealth of returning talent and their future should be bright.

Soccer

The St. Mark's Varsity Soccer Team had a disappointing regular season, but finished strong in the S.P.C. tournament. With an overall record of 5-5-8 and a third place finish at S.P.C., the team was pleased with its season.

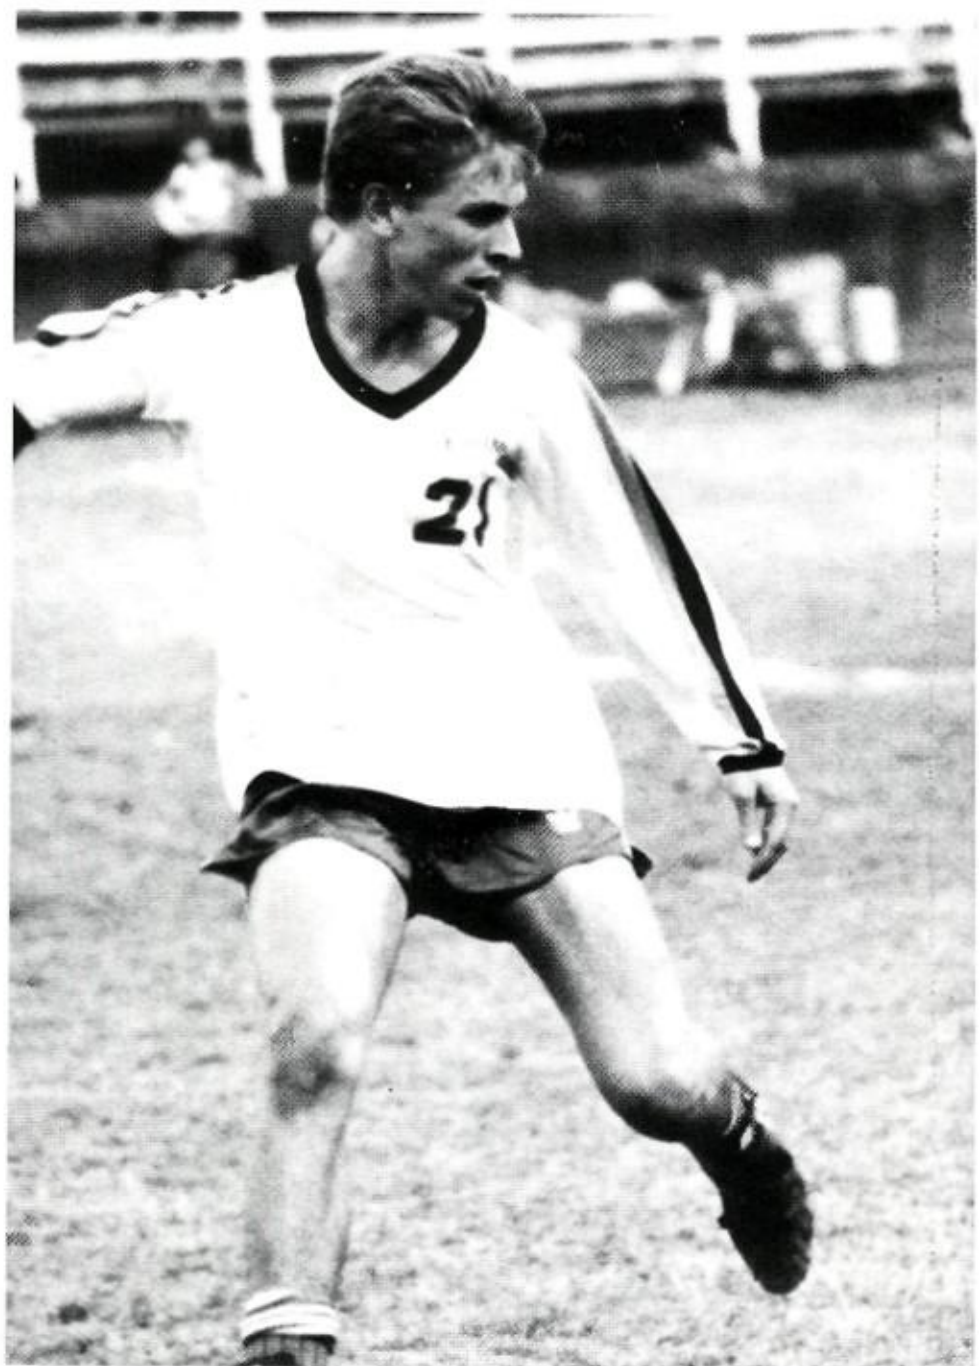

At the beginning of the season, the team was weak due to the fact that there were only five returning lettermen from the previous year. With the addition of Gilberto Prado and Chris Flanagan and the hard work of the team, they were able to have a successful season.

With disappointing losses and ties during the regular season, the team wanted to prove themselves in the S.P.C. tournament. With hard work put in by both the team and

Coaches Paul Mott and Rick Hartzell, they were able to do just that by finishing third. The team had a chance to finish first by beating Cistercian in their last game, but their hopes faded when they lost 0-2.

All-S.P.C. honors went to Kevin Kerber, Andrew Srulevitch and Chris Flanagan. Honorable mention was given to Scott Mattoon, Jimmy Whited, and Gilberto Prado.

This year's varsity team was pleased with its strong finish and the remaining players are looking to continue their success at the S.P.C. tournament in the years to follow. With the same hard work and enthusiasm next year, an S.P.C. championship is well within reach.

Swimming

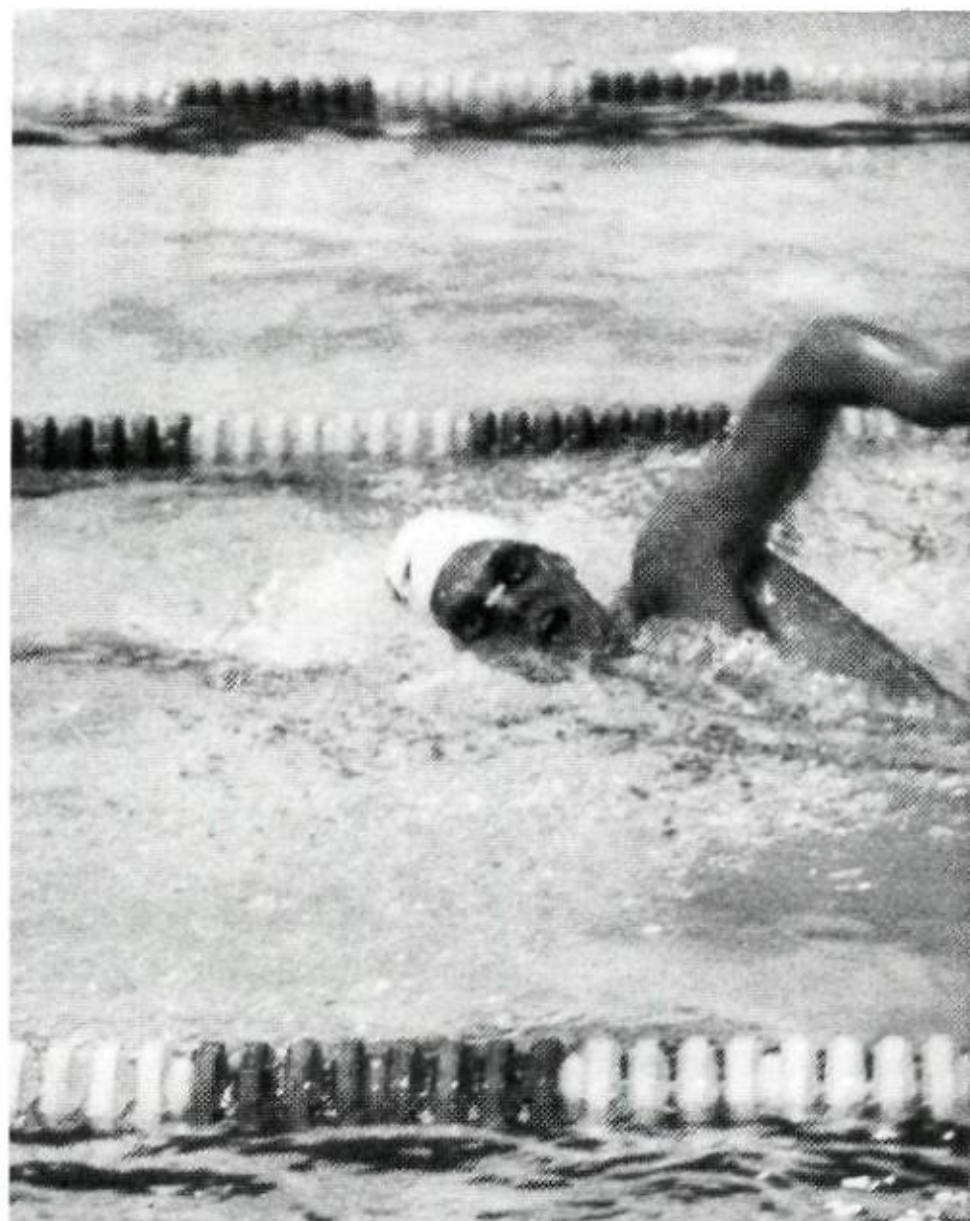

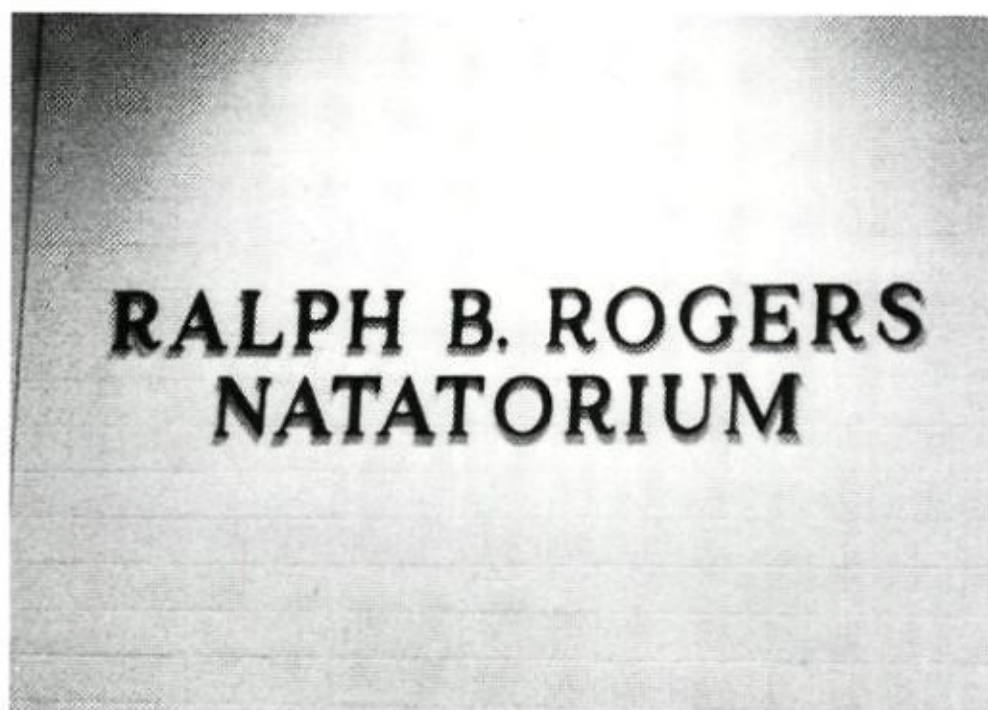

This year's swim team faced a difficult challenge. After the first loss in three years (against Trinity) last season and the loss of senior swimmer Todd Oakes to Stanford, how could St. Mark's continue with its tradition of victory? With the help of senior swimmers Herbert, Gallagher, and Lengyel, junior Robert Musslewhite and freshman Stanton Henry, the St. Marks team emerged with only one dual meet loss and five dual meet wins. The first meet of the year against Highland Park was disappointing. St. Mark's lost by a small margin despite valiant efforts by the whole team. However the rest of the dual meets were won by St. Marks! They trounced Jesuit twice and beat last year's state champion, J.J. Pearce. They beat combined teams from Irving and in a highly emotional moment, defeated Trinity Trojans, who had beat them the previous year.

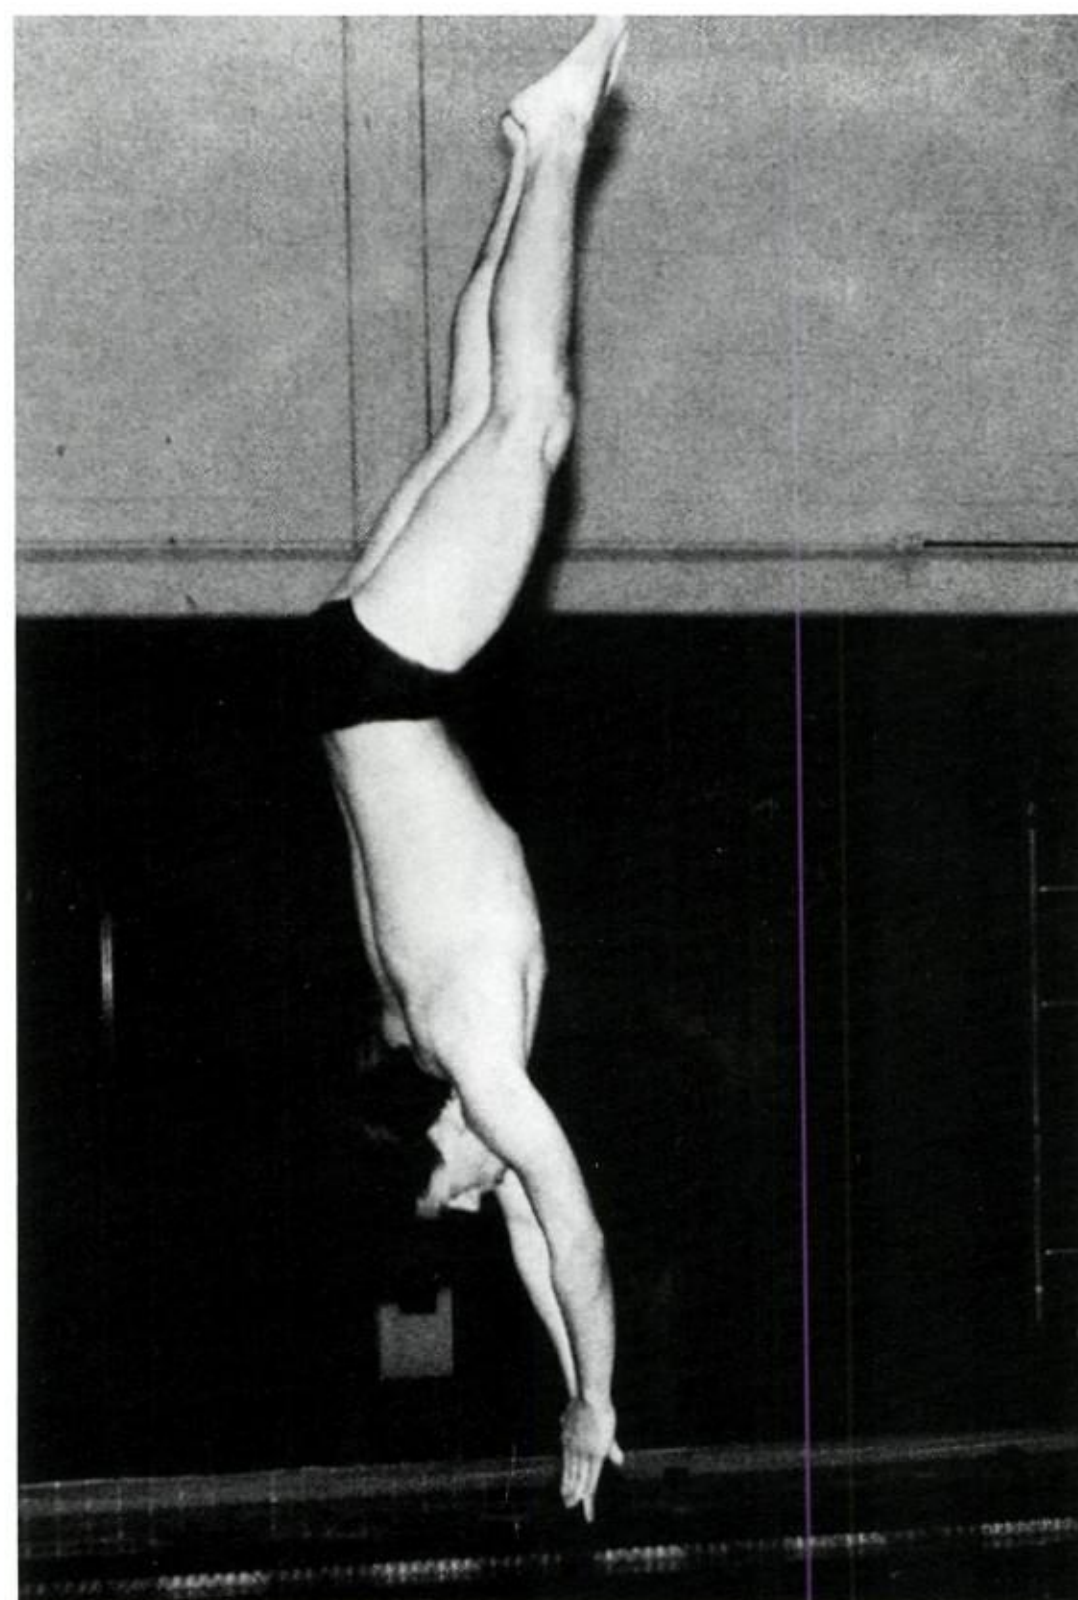

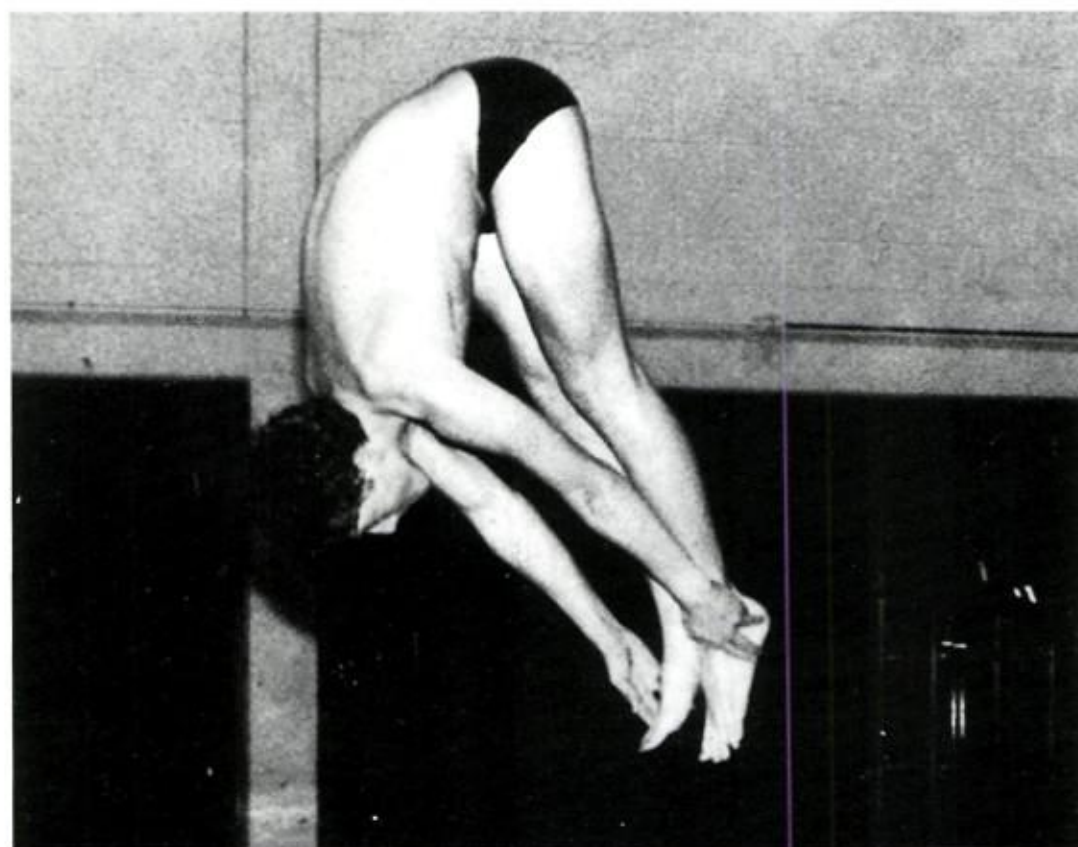

Unlike past years, St. Marks did not rely on a few swimmers to carry the team to victory. They relied on the depth of the small team. Prolific freestylers included Lengyel, Orr, and Herbert, while Gallagher excelled at all events. Musslewhite, Noell, Fogel and Lain excelled at breaststroke and Musslewhite broke last year's record in 50 free and 100 breast. Junior William

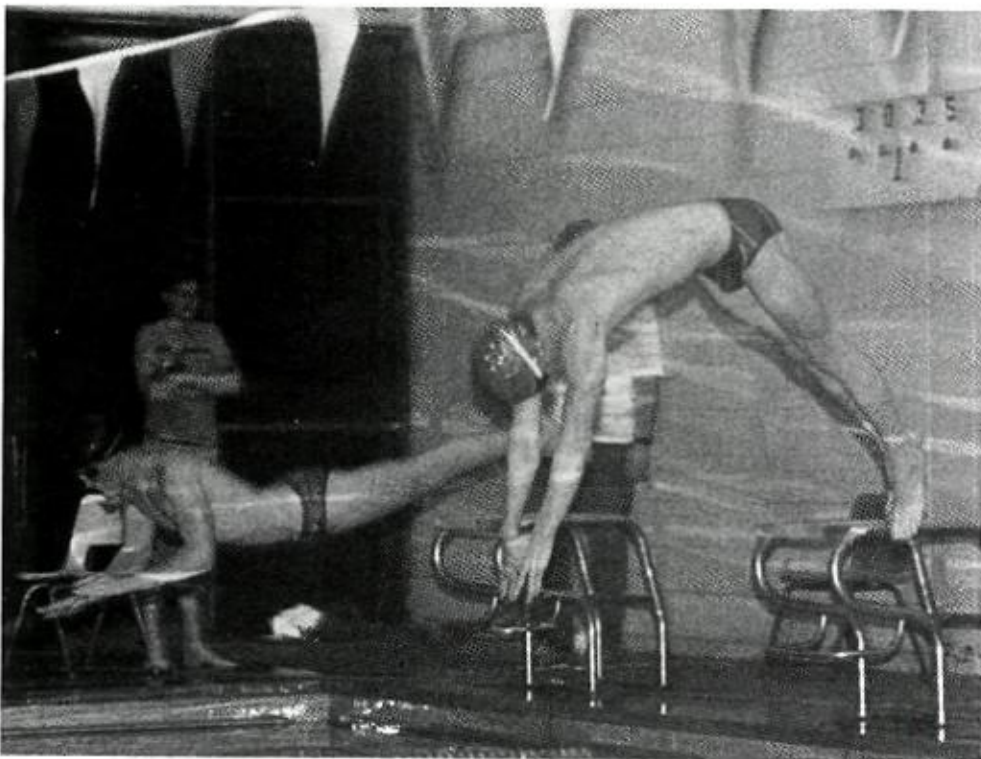

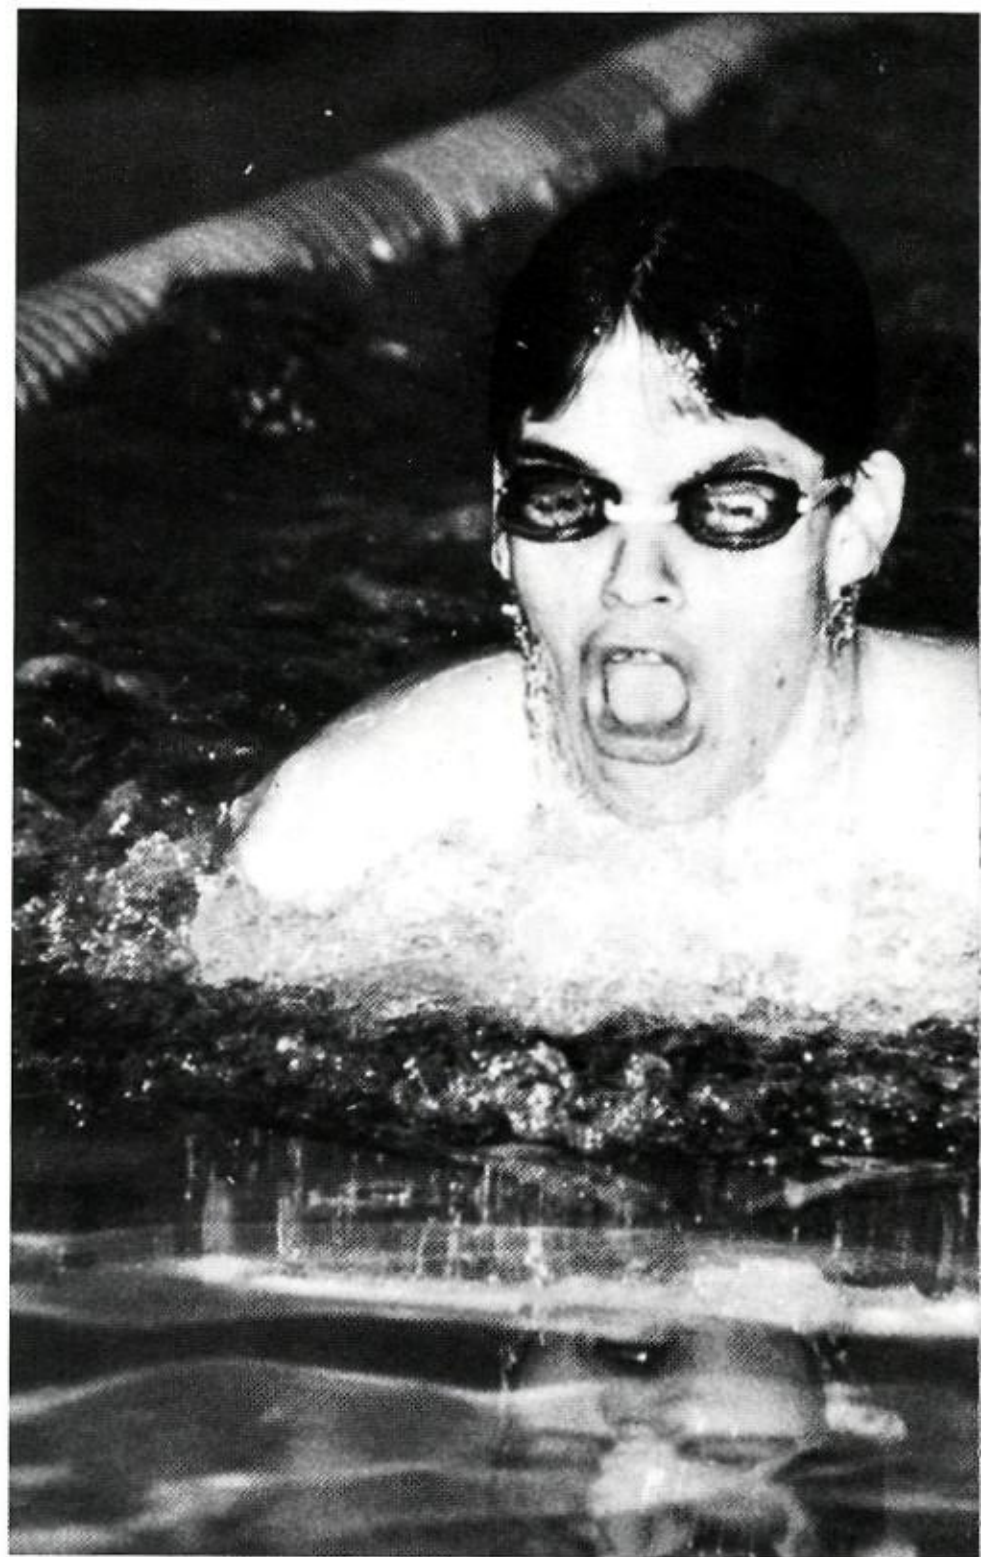

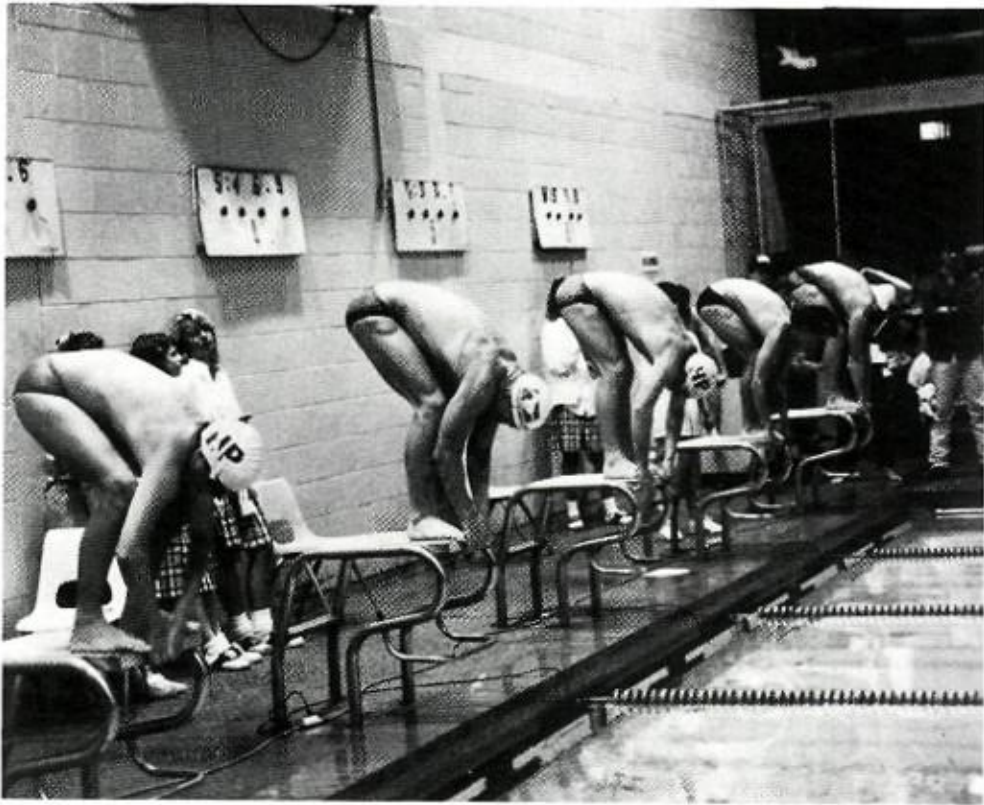

Roberts and Stanton Henry proved their skill in the backstroke although Henry switched events when points were needed elsewhere. Greg Naarden and Jon Morgan garnered points in the 500 free and other events. Todd Guthrie, unable to swim due to an injured shoulder, attended meets and cheered his teammates on to victory.

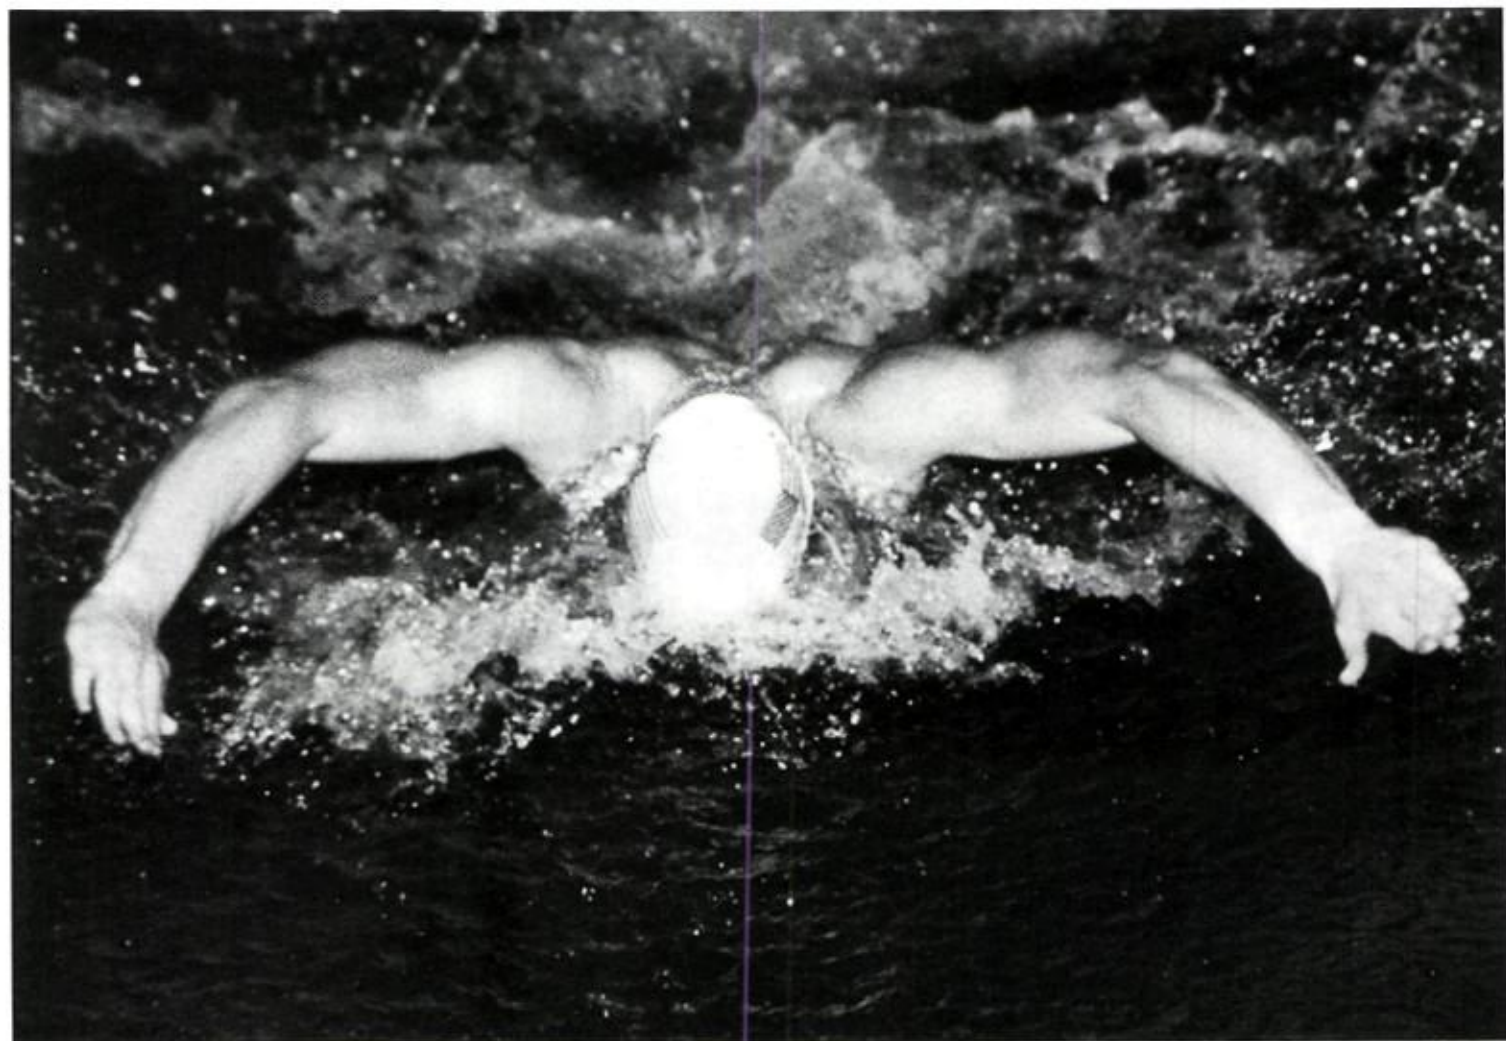

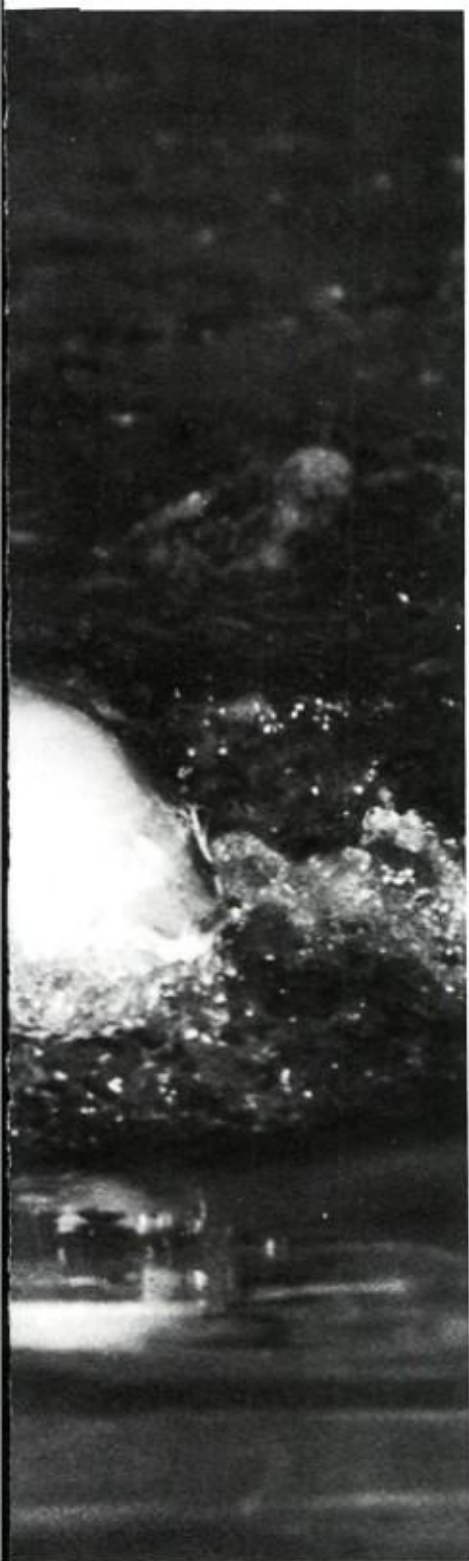

Several invitational meets were attended by members of the team. Travelling to Austin were Gallagher, Henry, Lengyel and Musslewhite. Gallagher and Lengyel swam at SMU. The Trinity Invitational was attended by the entire team, while the zenith of the year was the Eastern Interscholastic Swimming Championships in Philadelphia. Gallagher, Herbert, Musslewhite and Lengyel attended, and, despite their small number, finished fifth overall, proving St. Mark's swimming skill.

The team had a great season led by Coach Stutsman, Coach Merten, and Coach Mrs. Merten (our answer to the football team's cheerleaders). When the St. Marks swimmers worked as a team they proved victorious. Mrs. Merten was heard to say at more than one meet, "WIN! I didn't come here to see you lose!" The swimmers rose to the challenge and had a successful season.

Wrestling

This year's wrestling team and the future ones have one advantage over the past few teams . . . depth. The overwhelming participation by the underclassmen have started the first time "Dynasty Wrestling" at St. Mark's. Head Coach Rick Ortega is the nucleus of this powerful atom.

Freshman Tor Scheihagen at 98 lbs. demonstrated excellent dedication by drinking approximately 2 gallons of water to wrestle up a weight.

At 105 lbs. Junior Dax Ainsworth slimmed down to ultimately win the Regional tournament. Dax is a second-year wrestler who shows great promise and potential. Dax has not excelled alone; his practice partner and 112-pounder David Roosevelt has created an uproar at the lower weights. As a sophomore this year, David had a composite record of 26-6-1 with first places at the St. Mark's Invitational, S.P.C., and third at Regionals.

We were blessed with the presence of newcomer and rookie Kevin Zaletsky at 119 lbs. He came to St. Mark's with the intent to fence, but after realizing the immense feelings from wrestling, he decided to stick with that sport. Kevin possesses natural ability on the mat.

The 126 lb. spot was tossed between Sophomore Bryan King and Senior Doug Dixon. Bryan filled the spot during Doug's illnesses and injuries. He won S.P.C. and TAWA State. Giving credit where it is due, Doug Dixon did all the tough jobs at 126. With a record of 24-5 on the season Doug managed third at the Bowie Invitational, first at Regional and S.P.C., and sixth in State. Though injured throughout the season, Doug wrestled and won. He is a fine example of how the whole team sucked it up and kept it going.

Reyno Arredondo was next in line at 132 lbs. This senior co-captain won the St. Mark's, Bowie, and Lake Highlands Invitational, Then he went on to win Regionals, S.P.C., and State. He is this year's only undefeated wrestler. At post-season Reyno made All-American, for the second time, by winning fifth place at Prep Nationals at LeHigh University. Including the national tourney, Reyno had a 40-2 record.

Junior Co-Captain Dan Adams wrestled

138 lbs. Dan placed second at St. Mark's, fourth at Lake Highlands, and first at S.P.C. and Regionals. After an awesome season Dan lost in the semi-finals at State and got sixth place.

Next was Brian Hargrove. He won fourth at St. Mark's and first at S.P.C. and Regionals. Brian will be a definite force to reckon with on next year's squad.

The teddy-bear of the team was Junior Jason Pratt. Although Jason was quite passive on the mat he won third at Lake Highlands, and first at St. Mark's, Regionals, Bowie, and S.P.C. Jason also performed well at State, placing fifth. He is a great candidate for state champion next year.

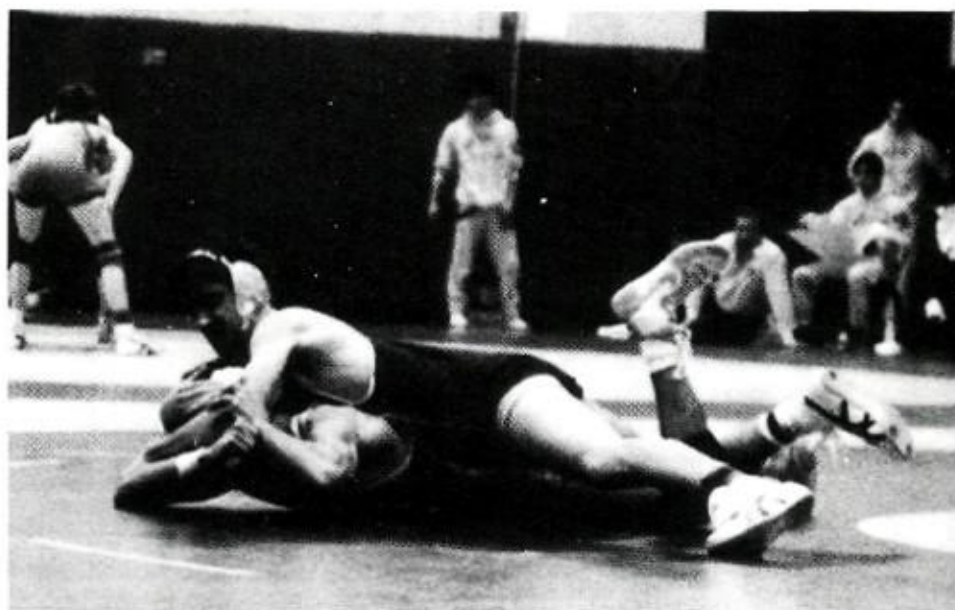

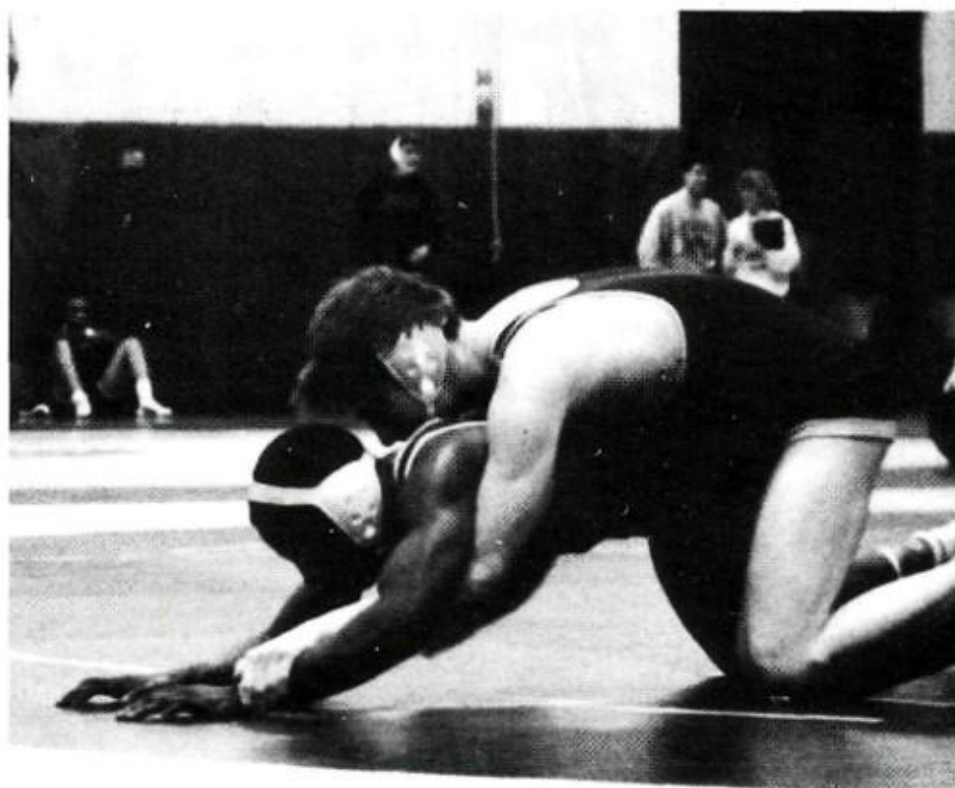

Joining Arredondo as one of the most impressive members of the team was freshman Jason Gordon. He has dedicated himself physically and mentally to the team. With first at St. Mark's, second at Regionals, and first at S.P.C., Jason appears to be a key in the door of success on this squad.

At 185 lbs., sophomore mongrel Jimmy Stewart brought home second at St. Mark's, Regionals, and S.P.C. Jimmy surprised many of his adversaries because his baby-like appearance does not exist on the mat.

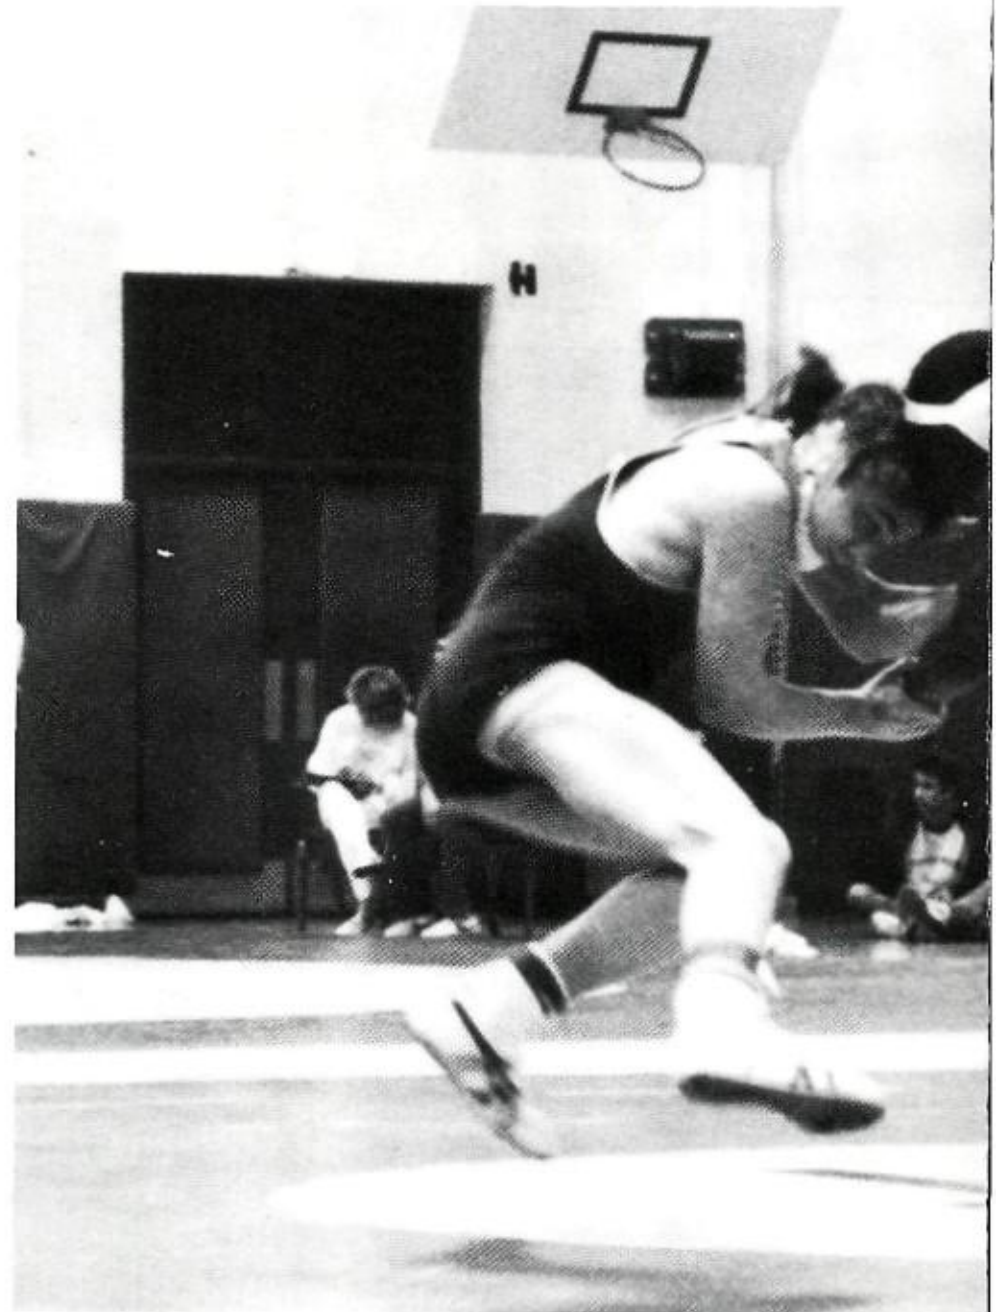

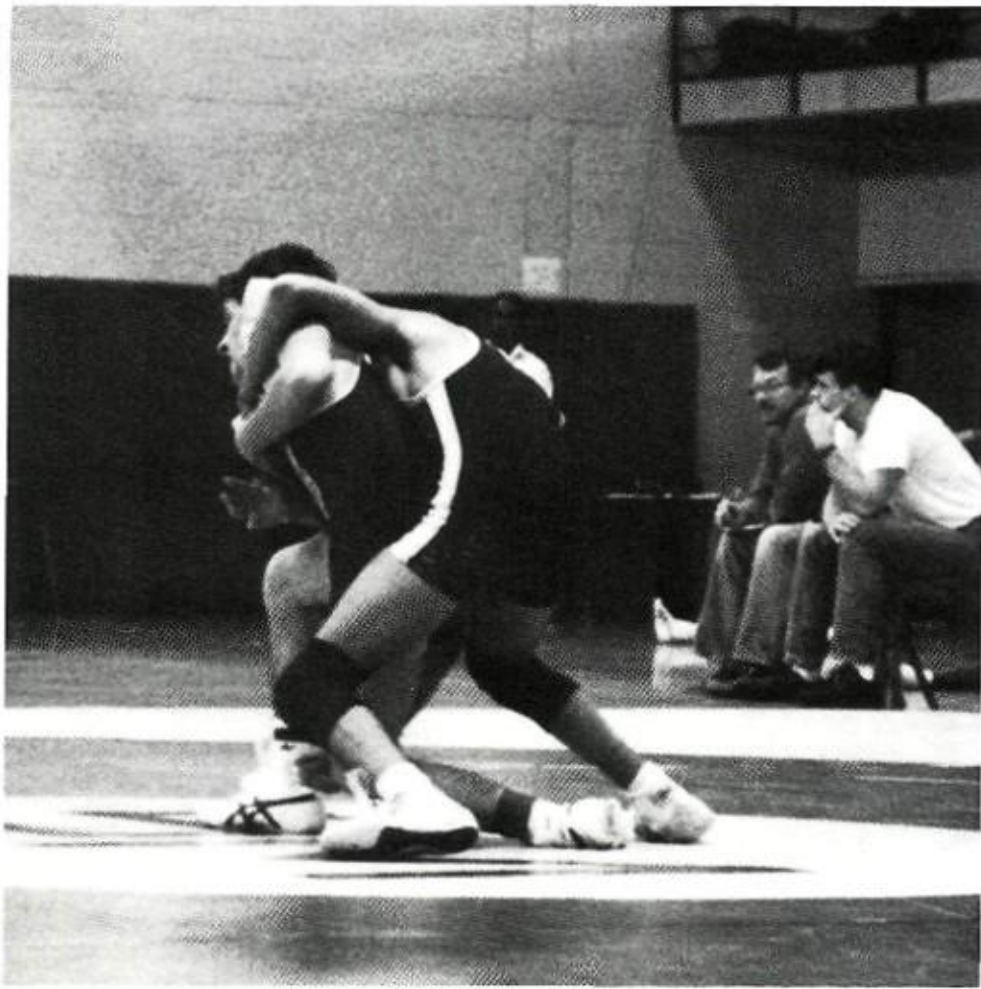

This year's team contained two seniors, Dixon and Arredondo, who both had excellent seasons. But the future is in the hands of these underclassmen that have proved their quality. As a team, the Lions went 16-2-1 at dual meets with losses to R.L. Thornton and Lewisville High School. At tournaments we won the St. Mark's Invitational, took fifth at El Paso Bowie (21 teams) and Lake Highlands (21 teams).

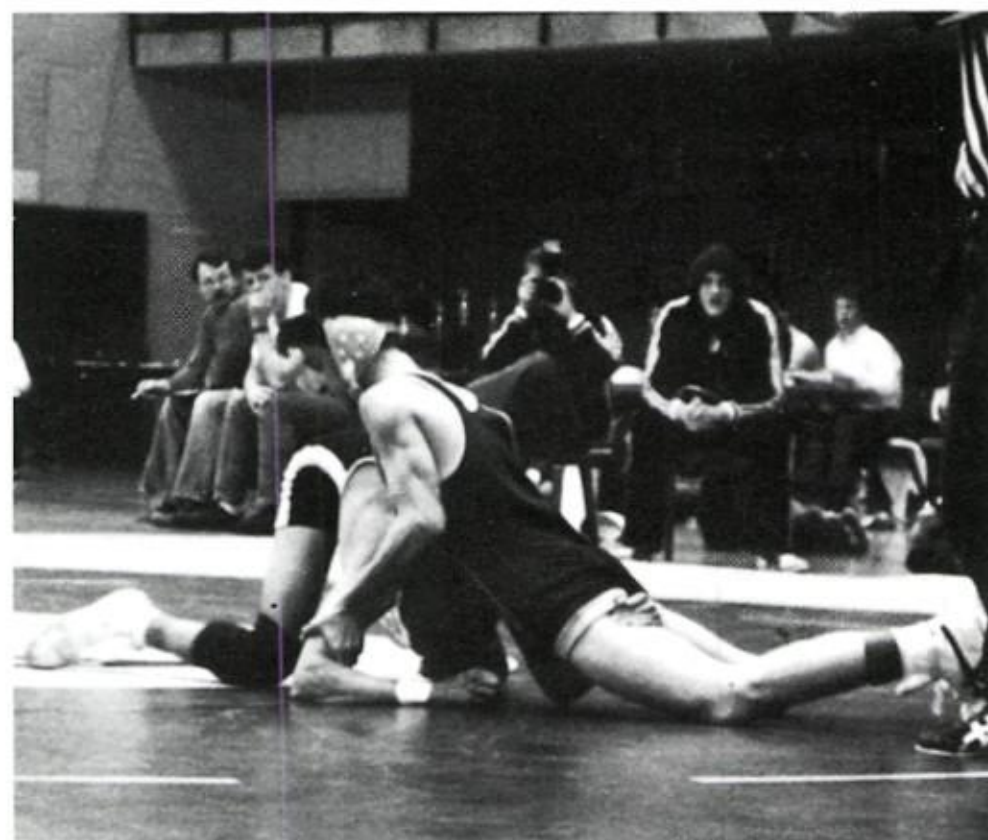

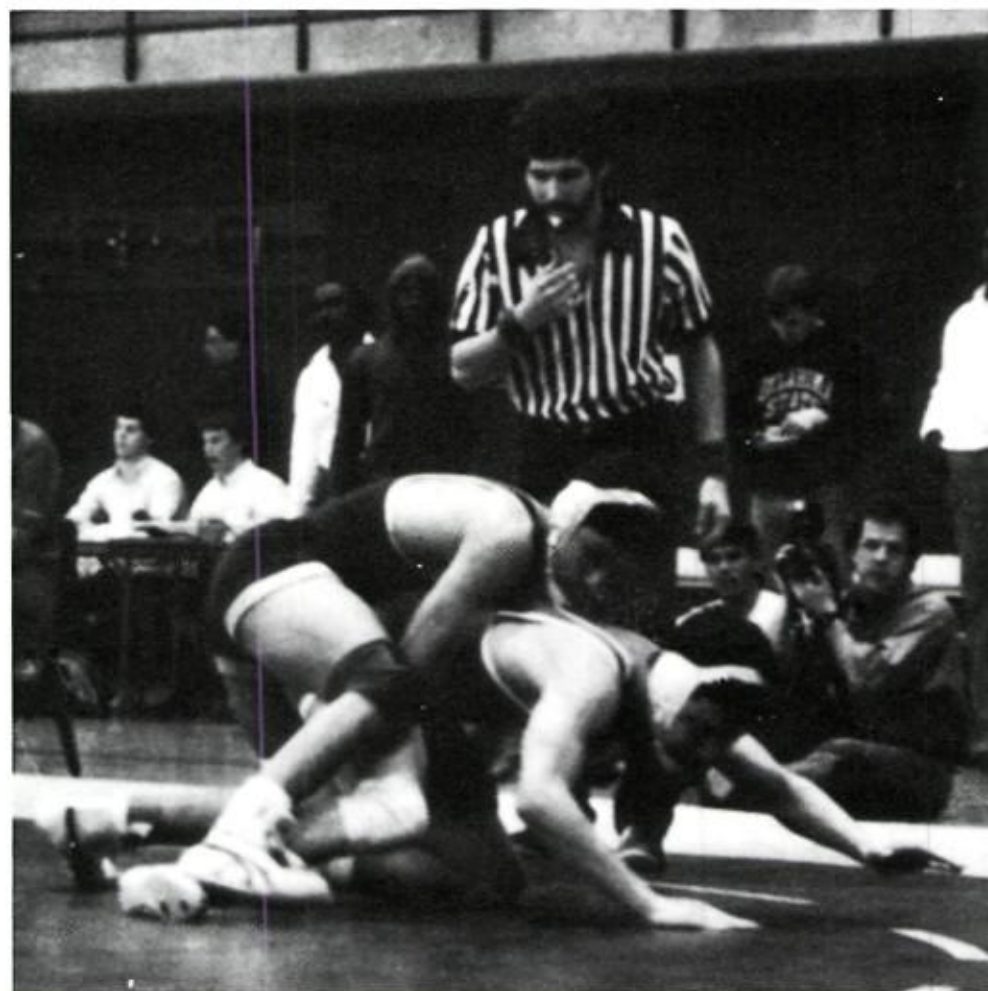

This Lion squad really turned on the heat at Regionals and S.P.C. taking second and first respectively. As Lion fans can confess, the wrestling team left them in awe at these tourneys. Another surprise was a ninth place finish at State proving all newspaper predictions wrong for this squad.

The team started off slow, but realized its potential and, with the driving forces of Coaches Ortega, John Fisher, and Jay Sylvester, the team illuminated. By being one of the youngest teams in the State, it possesses a bright future. The Lion wrestling team has become Ortega's Dynasty.

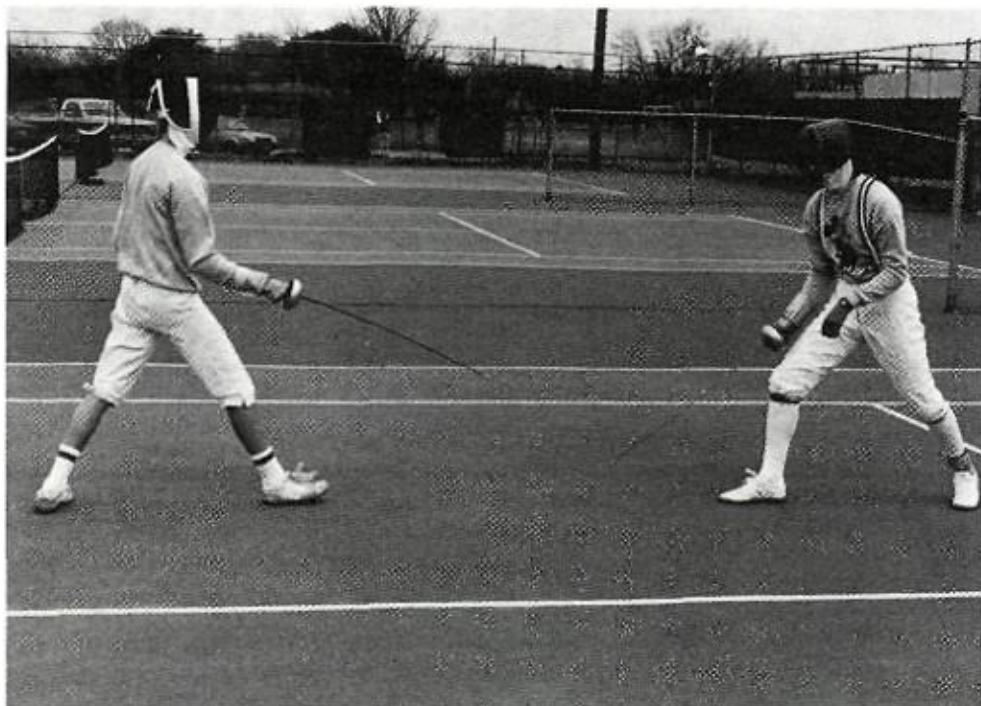

Fencing

This year's fencing team had another exciting season under the veteran leadership of Captain Rafael Martin with help from Co-Captain Kevin Hawkins and Asst. Captain Elizabeth Greenman. The team for the second year in a row changed coaches. This season's coach was St. Mark's alumnus and epee fencer Dan Northcut. Although the fencing team has suffered greatly in past years with the loss of, first, veteran master Daniel Nevot and, then, Coach Scott Clark, Northcut kept team spirits high with a player/Coach mentality. The team again included Hockaday students, following in the footsteps of pioneers Catherine Clark and Macol Stewart, adding depth and a certain personality to the squad.

Members of the teams competed in many regional events, including the Duel of Dallas, in which bronze medalist in sabre

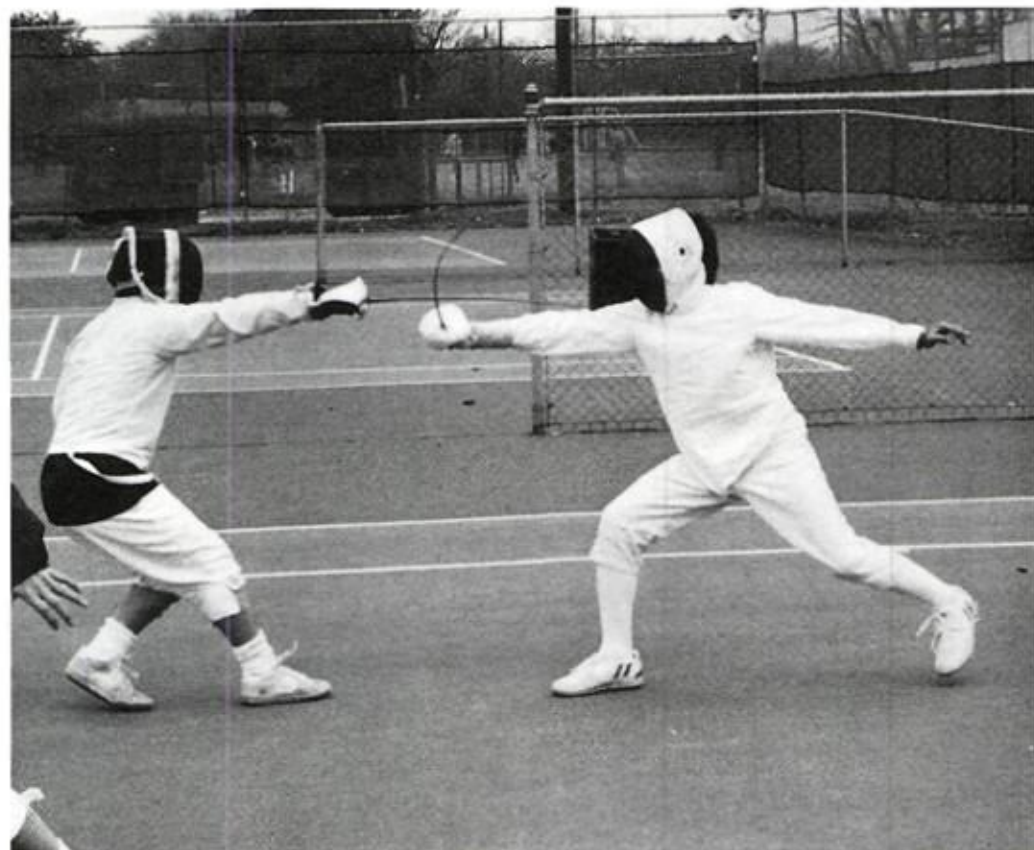

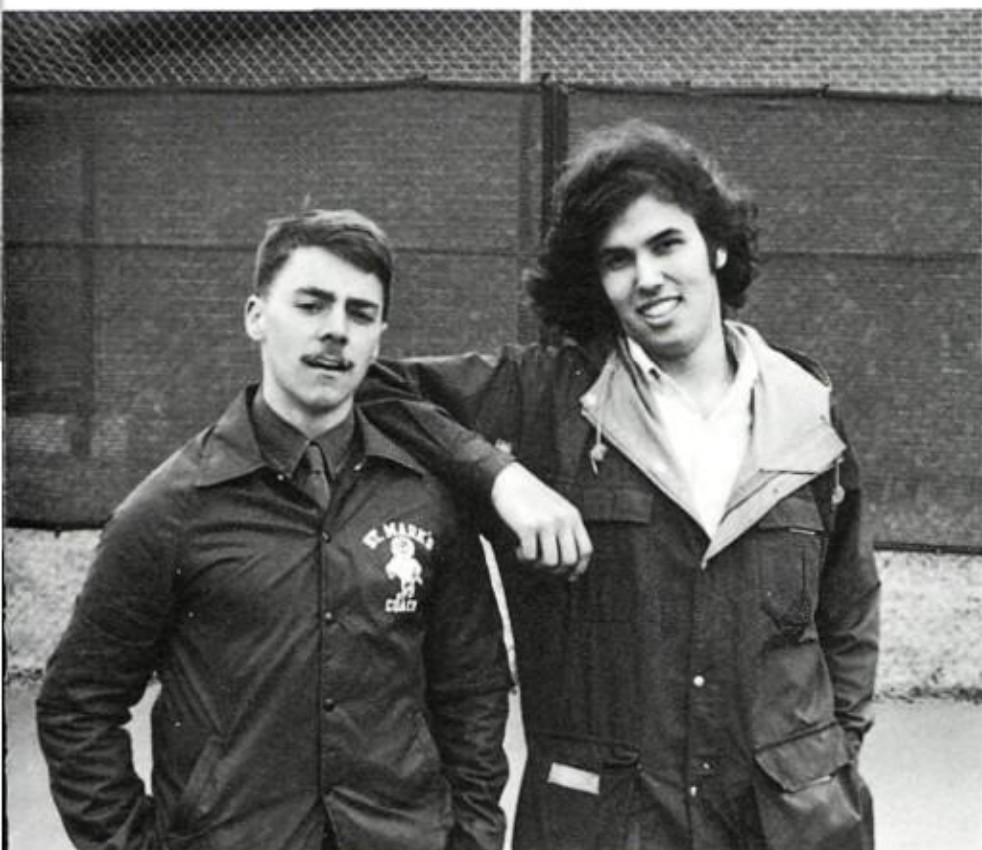

Peter Westbrook also competed. The big event again this year was the Junior Olympic National Championships, held this year in Orlando, Florida. St. Mark's sent 5 Fencers, Rafael Martin, Ned Sinnokrot, Scott Schwind, Wilson Schoellkopf, and Kevin Hawkins, to Orlando to fence. Three Hockaday fencers participated as well. The competition, as usual, was tough, and the only real bright spot for the team came in Under-16 saber with an 18th place finish for Scott Schwind and a 32nd place finish for Ned Sinnokrot. Despite some disappointing losses, the team thoroughly enjoyed themselves and the sights of Orlando, and they returned with new techniques, new equipment, souvenirs, and the hope that the experience gained by the younger fencers will strengthen next year's team.

CONGRATS!

Well, hopefully we've both made it... Oh, but the memories... Muddin' on T-day... "Oh you rebel youth"... Mom, why'd you dress us that way?... "But"... "Charlie! The back stairs RUN!"... Hamburger Helper... "Aw Have you been in the den all day?"... And then Dallas... "I cleaned up the studio"... The MAN and the woMan... Weeding — it's easier in the rain. "They pull right out"... Ah yes, the Club Med experience... "Let's feed the fish," "Where you goin?", "DAVE!"... "I'm going to 7-11 Wanna come?"... D2 — "I'm dyin heah." "Yeah, but you don't have to dance with him."... "Body surfing. Amazing waves. About a mile down"... Newport Beach, Malibu, etc... Vivarin... "Turn on the fan"... guitar and singing... how to annoy your roommate... "Charlie, call me and leave lots of messages in different accents"... We were not born to serve... "Love you Nerbie" — Michele

Dear Allee,

You are a joy that grows deeper,
Pride that grows stronger,
And love that has touched our hearts every day.

May you always remain close,
Yet travel far enough to satisfy the curiosity of your soul.

You leave St. Mark's with our love and congratulations!!

My dearest Kevin,

I need the laughter we feel
 When we're being silly.
 I need the love we feel
 When we're being serious.
 I need the look in your eyes,
 That melts my heart.
 I need you to be my friend,
 When I'm feeling lonely.
 I need the craziness, happiness,
 and
 Even the loneliness of being in love with you.
 But most of all, I need you to need me.
 Like I need you . . .
 Forever. And I do.
 I love you,
 Amy

St. Mark's Glory Years

Congratulations Doug Dixon and St. Mark's Class of '87.

The greater the challenge or degree of difficulty, the greater the glory in surmounting it. Graduating from St. Mark's is indeed a glorious achievement and a tremendous stepping stone for the future. Of course your faculty and staff deserve to share your glory. Their dedication to excellence in their field has provided you an exceptional education, as well as a great example of the true essence of success in any profession you might pursue. Keep going for the Glory, Class of '87.

Keep Going For It, Doug!
